Marines Smash Red Regiment; Lose 73 Dead

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Marines smashed a Communist regiment 25 miles southwest of Da Nang and reported that 570 of the enemy were killed. Leatherneck casualties were 73 dead and 139 wounded.

The U.S. Command said the Marines rolled up their lopsided victory below the big Marine base at Da Nang against a crack Red regiment after two days of intense fighting. The Communist regiment, estimated about 3,000 men before the battle, slipped away to the north Saturday under intense air and artillery hammering.

Two U.S. planes were downed over North Vietnam during the weekend, bringing the number of U.S. combat planes reported lost over the North to 571.

Envelop Convoy

An F105 Thunderchief was brought down by Communist ground fire Sunday but its pilot was rescued. A twin-engine B57 Canberra bomber went down Saturday night in a raid on the southern end of North Vietnam. Its two-man crew was missing.

Air Force pilots reported they completely enveloped a convoy of 20 trucks near Dong Hoi with heavy bombing Sunday. Another Air Force sweep destroyed seven of eleven trucks in a convoy near Vinh.

The total number of Communist MIGs claimed shot down by U.S. fighters rose to 74 Saturday with the downing of two MIGs by Air Force pilots who were attacking a rail line running from Hanoi to China.

Down Two MIGs

A flight of MIGs tried to intercept the raiding F105 Thunderchiefs. But U.S. pilots shot two.

House Seat Campaign Hot

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Fervent weekend campaigning climaxed the election battle to fill a vacancy in the state House of Representatives that could have a major effect on the tax program adopted by the Legislature this year.

For the Democrats, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams has led the parade of political luminaries plumping for Victor Steeh, a 44-year-old insurance man, in Tuesday's special election. Steeh is a former legislator.

On the Republican side, Gov. George Romney has been the mainstay of the GOP campaign for David Serotkin, a 28-year-old Mount Clemens attorney.

Steeh and Serotkin are seeking the seat left vacant by the death of Rep. James Nunneley, R-Mount Clemens.

Since the GOP now holds a 55-54 edge in the House, Democrats want desperately to make it a 55-55 standoff with a Steeh victory at the polls. This would give the Democrats a hand in writing any tax program.

Stock Prices Slump Sharply

NEW YORK (AP)—War in the Middle East sent the stock market into a tailspin in early trading today but the loss was sharply pared by early afternoon.

At noon the Dow Jones averages of 30 industrial stocks were down 11.14 points to 852.17. An hour earlier the decline had been 20.77 points.

The New York Stock Exchange common stock index at noon showed a loss of 67 cents in the average price of a share. At 11 a.m. the decline had been $1.10.

WAR STARTED IN the Middle East today with Arab nations fighting Israel on two fronts, at Egypt's Sinai border and on the Syrian and Jordan borders. The theater of war has been a cradle and crossroads of civilization and in modern times has been a cockpit of crisis. Chronic unrest dates to World War I and the beginning of the return of the Jews to their long-lost homeland in Palestine, then under British mandate from the old League of Nations. The Palestine war which followed British withdrawal after World War II established Israel as an independent state, but spawned Arab-Jewish enmity which has kept the Mideast in a state of half-war and at times threatened the world's peace, as it does today with onset of fighting.

Egypt, Jordan And Syria Are Fighting Jews

JERUSALEM (AP)—For the third time in 20 years, war broke out today in the Middle East and gunfire sounded in Israel and in three of its Arab neighbors—Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

The Arabs, sworn to destroy Israel, were battling the Jewish state's forces on two fronts, at Egypt's Sinai frontier and on the Syria and Jordan borders.

Each side accused the other of lighting the fuse for the explosion which, as in 1956, threatened to involve the major powers.

The main fighting today appeared to be in the Sinai Desert, across the frontier that United Nations forces guarded until Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered them out 18 days ago.

Heavy Fighting

Artillery fire was heard in Jerusalem, the holy city divided between Jordan and Israel. Israel's port of Haifa was bombed. Israeli planes attacked the airports of three Arab capitals, Cairo, Amman and Damascus.

Amman radio, the voice of King Hussein, reported heavy fighting along Jordan's 350-mile frontier with Israel.

Cairo said Israeli planes attacked Sharm El Sheikh, the point overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba—the area Nasser has blocked to Israeli ships in the central controversy that brought on the fighting.

Israeli Gain

The Egyptian high command admitted that Israeli forces had penetrated into the Sinai desert on the southern front and into the Haifa raid.

The hardest ground fighting appeared to be centered in the Sinai Desert front involving Egyptian and Israeli troops.

An Israeli dispatch claimed the army there had made gains but this was denied in Cairo.

Fighting also broke out along the Egyptian-administered Gaza Strip farther north.

Artillery Duel

Jordanian and Israeli artillery duelled along the border of divided Jerusalem. Damascus said the Syrian army had gone into action on its front with Israel.

Both sides claimed sweeping victories in the air battles, the biggest of which broke out over the Sinai Desert.

Cairo radio claimed 70 Israeli planes had been shot down.

An Israeli Arab-language broadcast claimed Israel had destroyed 150 Egyptian planes.

Damascus radio was even more sweeping claiming all Israeli planes "vanished from the skies of the battle." The broadcast said three Israeli planes attempting to raid Syria were shot down. Amman radio said Jordanian planes also shot down three Israeli planes in an air battle.

"Destroy Palestine"

All Arab broadcasts called on the armies to drive the Israelis into the sea.

"Attack, destroy and liberate Palestine," cried Cairo radio.

"The forces of the Arab revolution will not pull back until the Zionists are completely obliterated from our Arab land," said Damascus radio.

"We are on the threshold of the final battle and we hope that God will grant us victory," King Hussein of Jordan said in a broadcast.

Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israel's victorious commander in the Sinai war with Egypt in 1956, declared to his army:

"Soldiers of Israel, we are not setting out for conquest. Our only aim is to frustrate the attempt of Arab armies to conquer our country."

Blockade Is Target

Dayan said the main task is "to sever and crush the right of blockade and aggression which have been created around us."

The first Israeli-Arab war came as the new state was proclaimed May 15, 1948. Israel was formed out of Palestine, long under British mandate rule. This war was ended in an armistice in 1949. Broken in 1956 when Israel, backed by France and Britain, attacked Egypt. That fighting ceased under pressure from the United States and the Soviet Union.

Iraq has been moving troops into Syria and Egypt for more than a week, but there was no report they had gone into action. The Arab High Command in Cairo said Iraqi planes had joined Syria and Jordan in raids on Israeli targets.

Bombing Charged

Egypt charged Cairo and other Egyptian targets were bombed. Damascus radio reported that Syrian air force planes bombed the oil refinery in Haifa and left it in flames. The broadcast said airfields in the Sinai Desert front between Egyptian and Israeli troops and tanks, then spread to the Syrian and Jordanian fronts. Both sides accused the other of starting the war after weeks of crisis.

Tent Fire At Gwinn Is Fatal

MARQUETTE (AP)—Mark Alan Alexander, 3, has died of burns suffered when a gas lantern exploded and set fire to a tent occupied by him and his 12-year-old sister.

The boy died Sunday in St. Luke's Hospital where his sister, Cathy, remains a patient.

The two youngsters were on a fishing trip at Gwinn Lake south of Marquette with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alexander when the mishap occurred Saturday.

The parents were out on the lake in a boat when they saw flames engulf the tent. Alexander swam ashore where he found that Cathy had pulled her brother from the tent.

Nasser Gets War He Didn't Want

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt now is involved in the war he probably did not want, and from here on anything can happen. There is even a possibility that the Middle East can be the cockpit of World War III.

That chilling prospect will generate steam behind international efforts to bring about a cease-fire. Until and unless that is achieved, the world is in for a period of deep crisis.

Events of the past three weeks moved inexorably toward the inevitable climax once President Nasser moved his troops up to the Israeli borders and ordered the United Nations peacekeeping forces to withdraw from the posts they had occupied since the 1956 Suez war.

Although the Egyptian president occupied the limelight throughout the gathering crisis, he appeared to have been a man who was boxed in by his own actions, without any choice left between war and peace. His on-again, off-again ally, Syria, had much to do with pushing him into the position.

Speck Given Electric Chair

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Richard Speck, 25, was sentenced today to death in the electric chair for murdering eight nurses in their Chicago townhouse dormitory July 14, 1966.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Herbert C. Paschen of Circuit Court carried out the recommendation of the jury that convicted Speck on April 15. The jury recommended death but the judge was not bound to impose the maximum penalty.

The sentencing put in motion what is expected to be a series of drawn-out appeals.

An appeal to a higher court is automatic in cases involving capital punishment and the procedures for making such appeals nearly always take a great deal of time.

Speck's lawyer, Gerald W. Getty, said he would fight a death sentence "through all the courts in the land."

But the Circuit Court judge could impose a lesser sentence if he saw fit, and Getty has made it clear he would settle for a sentence of life imprisonment.

Speck was found guilty of rounding up nine young nurses in their dormitory at night and slaying eight of them, either stabbing or strangling.

Bjork Leaves NMU Deanship

MARQUETTE (AP)—Dr. Clarence M. Bjork, dean of graduate studies and acting vice president for academic affairs at Northern Michigan University, has been named dean of faculty at Western State College of Colorado, Gunnison, Colo. The announcement was made Sunday by NMU President Edgar L. Harden at commencement exercises.

Accidents In U.P. Take Five

By The Associated Press

The Michigan weekend traffic fatality toll climbed to seven Sunday.

Four persons drowned over the weekend.

The Associated Press weekend death toll began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Traffic victims included:

John H. Weems and his wife Bruce, both 63, of Dearborn, when their car rammed a tree on M 24 in Alger County Saturday evening.

Jerry Brister, 2, of Newberry, when the car in which he was riding on M 123, south of Newberry in Lape County, burst into flames after it collided with another vehicle.

Patti J. Kass, 14, of Menominee, when struck by a car while riding her bicycle near her home Friday.

Drowning victims included:

Bernard W. Gough, 48, of Pickford, recently appointed police chief of Mackinac Island after his boat was found wrecked on Birch Island in the Straits of Mackinac Saturday. His body has not been recovered.

Kills Four

SAIGON (AP)—Lt. Richard V. Root of Wayne, Mich., called in 175mm fire on a Viet Cong base north of Saigon Saturday. And as he watched from the back seat of a spotter plane, he saw his chance for a dividend.

A group of Viet Cong broke out of the jungle fleeing the base camp area and Root, firing his automatic rifle out the window, killed four.

Romney Aide To Base On Island

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—A Romney-for-President aide has rented a mansion on Mackinac Island for what could be a summer political headquarters for the governor.

Romney spent part of a summer in retreat there before announcing for governor in 1962.

The Mackinac Island State Park Commission Saturday approved an application by Travis Cross to rent the historic Ann Cottage, ever looking the island's harbor.

The six-to-eight bedroom mansion is expected to become a beehive of summertime activity for the unannounced presidential candidate with a steady stream of politicians, businessmen and financial contacts dropping by.

Cross, a former assistant to Gov. Hatfield of Oregon, arranged Romney's presidential win-testing trip to the north-west United States in February.

Fatal

DETROIT (AP)—Ludie Gayles, 27, of Detroit, peered into the elevator shaft at his apartment building to see what was holding up the elevator. He was struck by the descending elevator and died a half-hour later Saturday night in a Detroit hospital.

Spacecraft Coming!

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is loaning a full-scale model of a famous spacecraft to the American Legion for display at the U.P. Legion's convention to be held in Escanaba next week, it is announced by the convention committee.

Cloverland Post No. 82 of Escanaba are the host organization for the convention and the local sponsors of the spacecraft exhibit. The public may view the craft without charge in the House of Ludington garage where it will be displayed.

A faithful replica of the spacecraft in which "Gus" Grissom and Walter Schirra and the other Gemini pioneers wrote thrilling chapters in the history of space exploration, the model is unchanged except for interior design which is slightly altered to permit easier viewing.

To help complete the illusion, a color film of Gemini-4 Astronaut Edward H. White's 21-minute walk in space will be shown. Viewers in their imagination can join the astronaut in his thrilling experience.

The Gemini series of earth orbital flights ended in November, 1966, after scoring feats of rendezvous and docking in space which were essential preliminaries for the current Apollo lunar program. Under Apollo, three astronauts will fly to the moon and back before 1970.

Besides the spacecraft display the Legion is sponsoring a program of parades, speakers, and special events.

There will be a helicopter located on the Municipal Dock, and the U.S. Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Air Force will also have displays in the building with the spacecraft. Viewing of the displays is free to the public throughout the convention.

Woman Recovers From Accidental Gunshot Wound

Mrs. Robert (Joy) Trease, 37, of Rte. 1, Bark River, was reported in good condition at St. Francis Hospital today after she was accidentally wounded by a rifle bullet early Saturday morning.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said the accident happened when her husband, 41, got a rifle to investigate noises outside the home. Officers said the rifle apparently was cocked when Mrs. Trease stepped into a hall and bumped into her husband, the rifle discharging.

State Police said the family has had trouble with prowlers.

The bullet passed through Mrs. Trease's left arm and buttocks, hospital officials reported.

Detroit Jews Help Israel

DETROIT (AP) — There was a sense of urgency on Detroit's Northwest Side as more than 5,000 persons rallied in support of Israel's position in the Middle East.

Most speakers stressed peace instead of war. Irwin I. Cohn, collection chairman of the Allied Jewish Campaign told the audience that money they contribute Sunday would be on its way to Israel today.

Cohn said that during the week ending Sunday, Jews in the Detroit area had contributed $15 million and had bought $600,000 in Israel bonds for economic development.

There was some war talk and at times it was drowned in cheers and applause.

"If forced to do so, Israel will give a good account of herself militarily," said Dr. Samuel Krohn, Jewish Community Council President. "If necessary, we will help them do whatever."

His last few words were lost in cheers.

Rides Bike Into Auto; Boy Hurt

Mark LaPorte, 11, of 201 N. 16th St., suffered minor injuries in a traffic accident in Escanaba at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 3, it is reported by Escanaba police. The boy was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

The boy, riding a bicycle, accidentally rode into the side of a car driven by Eleanor E. Pearson, 1507 10th Ave. S., at the intersection of 2nd Ave. N. and 16th St.

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — More than 10 inches of rain has sent rivers pouring over their banks to wash away houses, dams and bridges in what officials say was Athens worst flood.

Citizens Favor Non-Antler Law

Approval of the Michigan Department of Conservation's recommendation for taking of antlerless deer this fall was voiced by a majority of members of the Escanaba District of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Deer following a final meeting at the State Office Building here Saturday.

The meeting was the fourth in a series by members of the committee. Earlier meetings, which started in March, included field trips to deer yards in the White Fish River, Stonington Peninsula, Arnold, Watson, Northland and Cusino Wildlife Research Station areas.

Charles Sitton, chairman of the 15-man committee whose members ranged from sportsmen, farmers, teachers, foresters and business men to residents will present the committee's recommendation to the Conservation Department at the commission's meeting in Lansing June 15. William Hemmilla of Gwinn was vice chairman of the Escanaba district committee.

Similar citizens committees have been meeting in the Baraga, Crystal Falls and Newberry districts to study the deer situation in those areas.

The members of the Escanaba district committee were from Ionia, Kalamazoo, Pontiac, Marquette, Gwinn, Ishpeming and Escanaba.

Summer Study Grant Awarded To R. J. Vadnais

Robert J. Vadnais of Woodstock, Ill., a native of Escanaba, has been selected to attend a National Education Act summer institute in geography to be held at Western Illinois University, Macomb, Ill.

Vadnais teaches in Junior High School at Woodstock and the Geography Institute he will attend includes emphasis on geographic subject matter, various approaches to geographic instruction and new materials and visual aids.

He is married and has four children.

In Service

Machinist Mate Fireman Apprentice Gerald P. St. Peter Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald P. St. Peter Sr., of 308 N. 13th St., Escanaba, has returned to Long Beach, Calif., aboard the support aircraft carrier USS Bennington, after a seven month deployment to the Far East.

His ship spent the majority of its deployment off the coast of Vietnam as flagship for the Commander, Anti-Submarine Warfare Group One. The carrier provided essential logistics support for destroyers and saved the lives of many downed pilots with its search and rescue missions.

The Bennington visited Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, and the Philippines while deployed. The crew also spent a week in Sydney, Australia. The ship is now entering the Long Beach Naval Shipyard in preparation for duty off the coast of California.

Plea For Rome Leadership Hit

DETROIT (AP) — The Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, Episcopal bishop of California, has been criticized by his former bishop for urging all Christians to unite under the Roman Catholic Pope "as the visible center of that unity."

"Bishop Myers' words will do no good and will not further unity at all," said the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan.

"I think all of us desire unity," Bishop Emrich said Sunday. "But one of the great facts of the world is not that you desire unity, but that there are real differences of belief."

Myers was suffragan bishop of Michigan under Emrich before becoming bishop of California.

Myers told a packed congregation at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco Sunday that "We need a holy father. We need a father who can speak and witness to the whole human race."

"There are so many real and profound differences in belief that are just glossed over by such a statement," Bishop Emrich said.

"I would say this," he added. "We should unite behind any world Christian figure who can help the world, but this is as far as working in the social order is concerned. It does not involve questions of Church policy."

"For example, in Detroit the churches all work together in social work without feeling the necessity of glossing over their deep differences."

"I suppose the actual point is that the Pope claims to be the Vicar of Christ on earth and the Anglicans (Episcopalians) look upon him as the Bishop of Rome."

"There's no sense in glossing it over."

Bishop Myers invited his congregation to consider the "central, crucial role of the Holy See in any dialogue on the unity of Christ's church." He called on Anglicans and Protestants to re-examine their relationship to the papacy as the chief spokesman for the Christian community in the world.

Myers declared that the Roman Catholic Church is accepting its own share of the guilt of disunity and added, "We must acknowledge our own guilt as well and this we have been somewhat less willing to do. If Rome attempts to renew herself in full view of the whole world nothing less is required of us."

The bishop said the Pope should be acknowledged as the chief pastor of the Christian family and lead the world-wide community of Christians in exerting its massive power to halt war and conflict in the world. He also called upon Pope Paul to consult with the Archbishop of Canterbury and other presidents of the World Council of Churches "in order that Christians may move in this direction."

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican circles reacted cautiously today to news that Episcopal Bishop C. Kilmer Myers of California had urged Christians to acknowledge the Pope as head of the entire Christian family.

Some Vatican sources pointed out that the bishop's view seemed to acknowledge the Roman Catholic belief in papal supremacy. Others noted that the question of the Pope's position remained the major barrier to Christian unity. Pope Paul has said this himself.

Students Meet To Plan For Teen Center

POWERS-SPALDING — The newly organized Young Christian Students organization met for the first time Wednesday evening, May 31, at the St. Francis Xavier Parish hall in Spaulding. About 25 interested adults and teen-agers were present.

The topic of discussion was a site for a proposed Teen Center in the twin communities. The teens asked for the support of the adults and their participation in helping chaperone the center.

A get-acquainted party is planned for Thursday, June 8, beginning with a meeting at 7:30 p.m. to report on the teens' accomplishments by that time. At 8 p.m. the public is invited to participate in the activities planned by the teens.

In charge of the meeting were the six charter members, Renee LaBonte, Cindy Lynch, Cynthia Gatten, Diane Smith, Linda LeBouf, and Jeanette LeBouf.

Cliffs Change On Park Outlook Told

Robert S. Marshall of West Branch, publisher of the Ogemaw County Herald, is the new president of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association.

He succeeds Ray Vos, outdoor editor of the Grand Rapids Press.

Michigan outdoor writers got a close up look at the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore Friday by land and by water.

As guests of the Munising-Alger Chamber of Commerce and Everett and Robert Morrison, operators of Pictured Rocks cruise boats, about 30 members of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association toured the area along Lake Superior from Munising to Grand Marais.

They also visited Munising Falls as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelba, owners of the property on which the falls are located.

Friday night members heard addresses by officials of the National Park Service and the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. regarding acquisition and development plans for the 67,000-acre tract.

Speakers at the Marquette meeting in the Hotel Northland included Frank Mentzer, Philadelphia, assistant to the regional director of the National Park Service; Robert W. Carpenter, Philadelphia, park naturalist with the NPS Planning and Service Center; David West, Shipenung, assistant manager-forest products, Cleveland-Cliffs, and Sherwood Trotter, Escanaba, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest.

MOWA members Saturday were conducted on tours of the Empire Mine, Marquette State Prison and a U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries anti-jammy stream treatment project on the Ford River in Dickinson County. Other members sampled trout and bass fishing in the Marquette area.

Saturday night's program was highlighted by a testimonial to Harry Ruhl, who recently retired after 36 years as chief of the Michigan Conservation Department's Game Division.

Mentzer told the newspaper, radio and television staff members that a supplemental appropriation bill for the Pictured Rocks Lakeshore is now before Congress. The Park Service, he said, is requesting $800,000 from the Land and Water Conservation Fund for property acquisition within the lakeshore area. It is asking Congress for $81,500 for salaries for a staff of four in the lakeshore area in the next fiscal year and $28,100 for maintenance of roads, trails and buildings.

The cooperative effort between government agencies and

Cleveland-Cliffs that helped bring passage of the lakeshore area bill by Congress last June was stressed by West.

Cliffs Disturbed

He said his company was greatly disturbed when it first learned five years ago of government plans to establish a park in the Pictured Rocks country. The original proposal quite seriously threatened the timber holdings of Cliffs, which is the largest land owner in the lakeshore area.

But, by working with government agencies, a bill was drafted that met the approval of both parties. The final proposal calls for an inner (or inviolate) zone and an outer (or buffer) zone. Development would be restricted in the inner zone, and timberland management would be allowed in the buffer zone.

Cliffs owns 600 acres of finest northern hardwoods sawtimber in the inner zone, where the company will retain perpetual cutting rights and will manage the parcel as a demonstration project to show the public "what land contributes to the nation, particularly if it is properly managed."

Cutting Demonstration

West predicted this "may become one of the most popular attractions in the Pictured Rocks area."

In its attitude toward the Pictured Rocks Lakeshore, West said Cliffs "went from outrage to pride in five years."

Trotter commented on three economic stimulators programmed by the U.S. Forest Service in the Hiawatha National Forest:

1. The Borealis timber sale through which about 500,000 cords of wood will be sold over a 15-year period. "This either will bring in a new mill or result in vastly expanding the output of existing plants," Trotter said.

2. Further development of canoe routes in the national forest. Trotter said the Forest Service developed a route along the Indian River recently, but that the canoeing potential on the forest has not been fully exploited yet.

3. Construction of a scenic highway through Forest Service land along Lake Superior as part of a circle route around the lake. This 30-mile stretch would be the first road in the Upper Peninsula designed strictly as a scenic highway, Trotter said.

City Studies Nuisance Law

An anti-nuisance ordinance designed to preserve property values and eliminate safety hazards is being considered by the Escanaba City Council, with final hearing and adoption scheduled for Thursday, June 15.

City Manager George Harvey noted that the problem appears to be largely with abandoned and junked cars.

The proposed ordinance, which was given first reading by the Council on June 1, was prepared by Administrative Assistant Howard Smale and Police Chief Harold Finman, at the request of the city manager. Inoperable or partially dismantled motor vehicles must be stored within an enclosed building, although 10 days will be allowed the owners to keep a vehicle on the premises in the process of repair.

Refuse or debris will not be permitted to be stored on private property; and excavations at construction or other sites must be provided with adequate safeguards.

Enforcement of the proposed ordinance will be the responsibility of the police department.

Itinerant Sales Practices Told

The Better Business Division of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce directs attention of the public to itinerant roofing and paint operators, magazine subscription crews, itinerant peddlers and training institutes for recent high school graduates.

In many instances, because the itinerant painter has no permanent address, any complaint is hard to process after he leaves the community.

The Better Business Division alerts the public regarding magazine subscriptions on one point: They state that magazines will be received for four years and payments will be made for only two years. However, they sometimes fail to state that the householder will be paying for the four year subscription in two years thereby making the individual monthly payments very high.

They also make it very difficult to cancel in the event that the public does not after thoughtful consideration desire to continue on the contract before receipt of any magazines or within a certain time period.

The training institutes are set up to train high school graduates and others in fields that do not demand institutional training but the industry itself will train the particular person in their field such as airline stewardesses, airline reservation clerks and airline personnel. Furthermore they do not guarantee employment after the institution training program has been completed but only offer assistance which of itself does not guarantee employment.

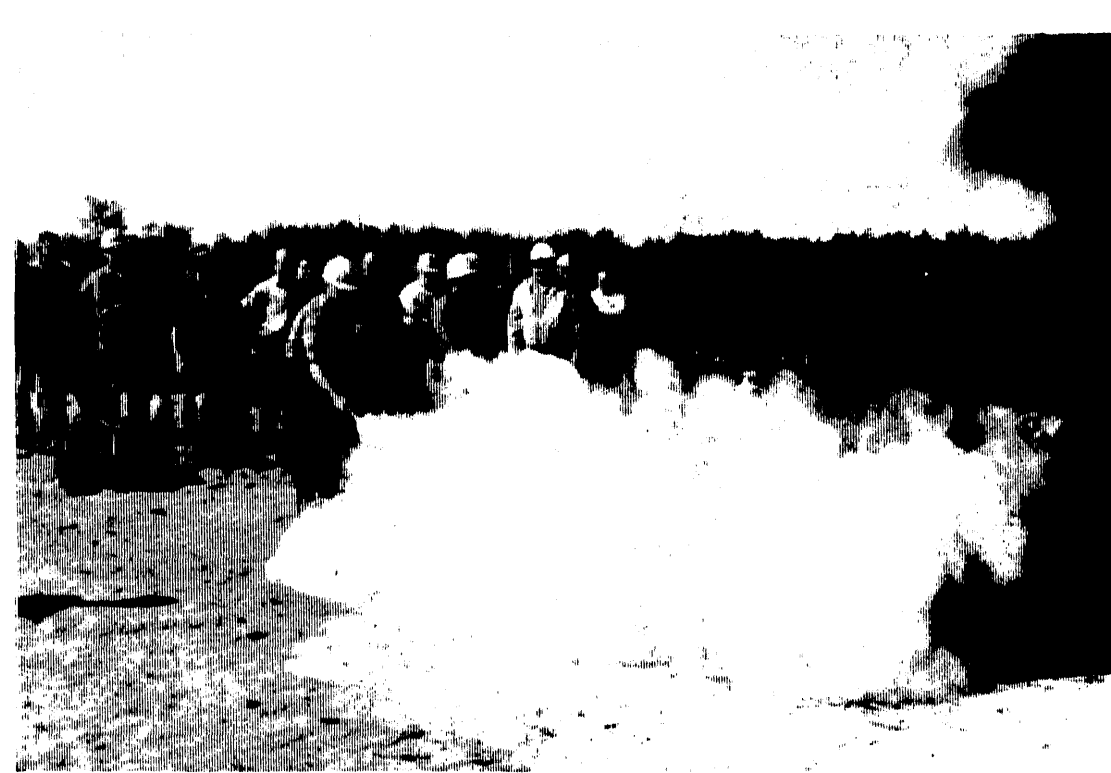

It is the recommendation of the Better Business Division that when in doubt the public should call 786-2192 for information on the company. After a contract is signed it is often too late to cancel.

Haddocks First In Sport Rally

Bob and Connie Haddock took first place in the Expert Class of the Wicked Safari Rally staged by the Delta Sports Car Club Sunday under the direction of Ken Wicklander and Sandi Makinen.

Second place went to Jim Cleerehan and third to Mel and Mabel Oslund.

Topping the field in the Novice Class were Phil and Lynn George in first place, Ray Walker and Tim Powers second, Bob Olson and Charlene LaMarche third.

Ensign Mail Office Closed

The post office at Ensign was closed effective June 1 but there will be no loss of mail service to the community, according to a U.S. postal service spokesman.

Mail addressed to Ensign is being routed to Rapid River post office where it is delivered as a part of the rural route service. An additional route has been established to take care of the needs of the Ensign community.

The rural route-man delivers mail, accepts outgoing mail, sells stamps and otherwise serves the mailing needs of the people, it was explained.

The Ensign post office was closed following the retirement of Mrs. Elanthe Papineau, the postmaster for many years. People of the community sought unsuccessfully to keep the Ensign mail center in operation, but they were told that the closing of the smaller post offices across the country is being done in the interests of economy and efficiency.

Judge Accepts 4 Guilty Pleas

Circuit Judge Bernard H. Davidson has accepted guilty pleas from three 17-year-old Escanaba boys charged with breaking and entering.

Sentencing of Clifford J. Roberts, 323 N. 20th St., Edward E. Groleau, 320 N. 20th St., and Orin O. Westlund, Escanaba, is scheduled during the term of Circuit Court which opened today in the Delta County building.

Also scheduled for sentencing is Joseph Perkins, 22, of Rte. 1, Rock, who pleaded guilty this morning to unlawfully driving away an automobile without intent to steal.

Kenneth P. Seymour of Nahma, who was arraigned on two counts of assault, pleaded innocent by reason of self defense. Judge Davidson set his trial to begin at 9:30 a.m. Monday, June 12.

Roberts, Groleau and Westlund all were charged with the breaking and entering on May 11 of Ray's Tavern, Cornell. Seymour was charged in connection with an incident April 3 in Nahma in which Clifford J. Bourasaw, Nahma, was wounded with a .12 gauge shotgun.

Two civil cases were scheduled for jury trial as the judge called the calendar.

The auto negligence suit of Arlene and Clifford Moore against George W. Davis stemming from an accident Nov. 11, 1965, was set for June 21. The plaintiffs are asking $75,000.

The auto negligence suit of Patricia and Thomas Mannebach against Leslie and Catherine Olson arising from an accident June 16, 1966 was set for June 26. The plaintiffs ask $50,000.

More Expensive Autos

The automobile has been the most tremendous fact changing American living since World War I. Its manufacture has become the biggest business in America, affecting the economy so intimately and enormously that when people let up in their buying of the latest models we fear a national recession.

Highway building has become a huge activity and auto crashes contribute more business to the law courts than any other trouble. They also are a prime source of hospital business.

In the past year this nation has been on an automobile safety kick. One of the triggers was Ralph Nader's book, "Unsafe At Any Price," accusing the auto manufacturers of shoddy construction that accelerates the huge highway toll.

Congress got into the act, of course, and set up some safety standards to apply to new car manufacture. Auto buyers will be getting the bill for the new safety standards starting with the 1968 models in the fall.

The perceptible look at our safety reforms so far isn't cause for much jubilation. It raises as many problems as it solves. We rushed into a piecemeal approach to highway safety which is going to make automobiles much more costly without assuring that the highways will be much safer as a result.

The effort to make safer automobiles is proper and needed, but we have not created a context of highway safety into which it fits as an effective part.

It's estimated that the new cars will cost a total of about a billion dollars more because of the safety features built into them. Congress imposed this new tax on the American people without asking them about it in a hurry to line up with safety advocates.

The same amount of spending on highway safety engineering might have saved more lives. The same amount expended in highway safety education, or in legal action against unsafe drivers might have had more results, but these weren't considered. The first wouldn't be as dramatic as collapsible steering columns and the second would be politically offensive.

The automobile manufacturers don't like the new standards and they were effective in having the first round of reforms changed somewhat, as making exorbitant demands upon them in the time remaining to get out their 1968 models.

The National Traffic Safety Agency, which will administer the safety standards, has been criticized for yielding to the manufacturers and not more fully "protecting" the public, but the realistic view of the situation is that the manufacturers, who have billions invested in the industry, will be strongest influence on the National Safety Agency, and not the public, just as the TV and radio networks are a stronger influence on the Federal Communications Commission than the public, and the transportation industry is a stronger influence on the Interstate Commerce Commission than the nation's shippers.

We have taken another big step into government control — this time of highway vehicle manufacture — and it has given Americans another big addition to their cost of living. It should be informative to learn how it influences the slaughter on the highways, but, as in the way of so many government reforms, we're not apt to have it put into clear focus by an assessment of the benefits that the costs have bought.

Romney Fans Grow

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Very shortly, a flock of "Romney-for-President" committees will start sprouting in mountain, midwestern and eastern states.

One already exists in Wisconsin, headed by Wilbur Renk, once GOP nominee for the U. S. Senate. Some Romney officials feel, however, that it was launched without sufficient fanfare.

The intent hereafter is to stage at least some of these things with a bit of drama. State committee organizers may journey to Romney's office in Lansing, get their pictures taken with the Michigan governor and declare lasting fealty.

All this comes under the Department of Keeping Up the Momentum. If the announcements are fairly well-spaced over the next six weeks, the governor's forces will suddenly find themselves operating in the brightly lighted showcase at the next GOP governors' parley in Jackson Hole, Wyo., June 29-30.

It is what comes after that may hurt. Romney's agents, conscious of the dangers of slackening pace, have not yet figured how to combat the summer doldrums. Stormy events on other news fronts may save them by diverting attention.

September will require a further build-up toward the floating governors' conference aboard ship to the Virgin Islands in mid-October. After that, it will be Big Casino—the time for the hardest kinds of campaign decisions.

Right now the governor's handlers are not looking beyond four key primaries—New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon. They expect to find Richard M. Nixon battling them in all four. Early soundings and contact-building are under way in these. Romney may later have to add other primary states.

The organization-building at headquarters moves on at faster pace. An experienced public relations man for the Washington national operation is about to be hired. A mid-western tactician, veteran of many political wars, is being courted but has not yet been signed up.

GOP professional has persuaded Romney's managers not to ride with one single southern leader. The increasingly diverse political make-up of the Old South states suggests the need for three or four men at least—and that is the present plan. Robert Snodgrass of Georgia, who engineered the governor's May 1 visit to Atlanta, is one obvious choice.

Top agents for the mountain and Pacific states have not been settled upon.

Romney's national chieftain, Leonard Hall, is looking for as many talented young operatives as he can find.

"I don't want any more people in here over 40," he thundered recently.

He even hopes to corral a youngish woman to head the organization's women's division. All eyes are on the 12 million first-time voters eligible in 1968.

Romney's adjustment to the need for an enlarging staff is coming slowly. Says an aide: "He got where he is politically on his own muscle, and he still thinks he can go along the same way."

The complaint is a common one. Barry Goldwater hated to give up his solo "pooping around" and go big-time. The late Robert A. Taft imagined that his Ohio re-election success of 1950 could simply be blown up to "8-state proportions and made to work again."

Romney's resistance unquestionably was a factor in his very slow organizational start. But the managers are cheerier now. They get ready access to him—and he is listening more closely.

Negroes 11% Of U.S. Population

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negroes comprised 11 per cent of the U.S. population as of last July 1, says the Census Bureau. That was one-half per cent more than in 1960 as the Negro segment of the population continues to grow more rapidly than the white element.

But both the Negro and white birth rates declined during the seven-year period the bureau said Friday. The Negro birth rate dropped from 32.9 live births annually per 1,000 women to 26.5 in 1966. The white birth rate fell off from 22.7 to 17.5.

OPERATORS OF FISH BOATS like these at Naubinway on Lake Michigan are wondering about the future of their business as the Michigan Conservation Department moves to restore the Great Lakes fishery in Michigan waters. On Lake Superior the Federal Government and UPACAP have teamed to renew industrial fishing for new processing methods and are producing five products at a pilot plant at Hancock. (Daily Press Photo)

Lake Superior Fish Get New Marketing

The struggle to keep the commercial fishing industry alive on Lake Superior has been underway for many months with some success now showing. The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, the UPACAP Fisheries Committee, the Economic Development Administration, and the Inland Seas Co. have combined efforts to restore commercial fishing in the world's largest body of fresh water.

Commercial fishing on Lake Superior was an important industry until the early 1950's, when sea lamprey nearly eliminated the lake trout and whitefish which were the mainstay of commercial fishing.

With the near extinction of the prized perch and trout, less desirable species such as herring, chub, and smelt became more numerous. When this happened, the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries and UPACAP decided to attempt to upgrade these fish products and create a marketable frozen fish product to keep the industry alive until the lake can once again produce lake trout and whitefish.

One of the most promising signs of the success of this venture is the newly created pilot fish plant in Hancock. The plant, opened last November, now produces five varieties of frozen fresh water fish from Lake Superior.

The entire project began a number of years ago when the Bureau proposed a project to study the problems of Lake Superior fisheries. Their request for funds was turned down; but later with the backing of UPACAP, a research study phase was funded by the Area Redevelopment Administration in April of 1964.

During this study phase, the Bureau developed techniques to allow for increased frozen storage life as well as for more economic harvesting of these underutilized species.

Researchers knew that ocean fish retain their original quality for one or two years when frozen, but that fresh water herring and chubs, because of natural oils, turn rancid in 60 to 90 days.

To solve this problem, the Bureau came up with a chemical glazing solution, quick freezing procedures, and new packaging methods to produce a fresh water fish product that would keep for several months.

"We now have a product that keeps at least a year," said Glenn Flehman, the Bureau's project co-ordinator. "Seasonal catches such as herring can now be processed and stored in a frozen state to give us sufficient quantity for the entire year."

Once the study phase was completed, the Bureau applied for and received a grant of $170,000 from the Economic Development Administration to establish the pilot plant and study new fish harvesting methods. The entire cost of the project was an estimated $185,000 with the Bureau paying the rest.

Of the total amount, about $90,500 was earmarked for the pilot plant, about $49,500 for marketing and economics, and $45,000 for exploratory fishing operations.

According to Flehman, the plan was to produce, process, and freeze fish products during the glut seasons, place Lake Superior fish on the market year-round, stabilize the market to eliminate price fluctuations due to excessive supply, and increase fishermen's revenue by the manufacture of high quality consumer convenience products.

"The pilot plant is intended to show fishermen and processors that they can produce a suitable manufactured product," said Frank Mead, chairman of the UPACAP Fisheries Committee, who, along with Flehman has spearheaded the project.

Since the Bureau wanted to directly involve industry in the pilot plant, a nonprofit corporation, Inland Seas Co., was formed in 1966. The company is composed of eight Lake Superior fish processors from Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Michigan.

The Bureau donated the use of machinery and technical help for two years to the corporation, which now operates the plant. At the end of the two-year period Inland Seas Co. has the option to purchase the machinery to keep the plant open.

The pilot plant is housed on the second floor of a white brick building on Portage Lake in Hancock. The building was leased from the U. P. Fisheries, Inc.

The plant's 4,000 square feet of floor space is divided into freezer areas, breeding, packaging, cleaning and sorting rooms. Robert Lang, who is part owner of Lake Superior Fisheries, Inc., is manager of the pilot plant.

The Bureau has contracted with Inland Seas Co. to produce 50,000 pounds of fish in the pilot plant and to date about 30,000 pounds of fish has been processed.

The pilot plant began production of chubs and herring in November, and continued until Lake Superior's shore iced. The large smelt runs took place in late April and early May.

Five different types of products are now being processed at the plant. They include breaded and unbreaded chubs, breaded and unbreaded cisco, and breaded smelt.

Fifteen full-time workers from the Houghton-Hancock area were employed at the pilot plant during the peak smelt runs. This number will probably be reduced to 10 when the large runs of fish are over for the season.

The plant can process about a ton and a half of smelt a day. The total operation from cleaning and sorting to final packaging takes approximately 40 minutes per fish. The larger fish such as cisco and chubs take a little while longer because of the longer freezing time involved.

The fish are first sorted and cleaned by hand and then filleted by machine. Workers place the fish in a single layer on stainless steel trays and from there they are taken to the blast freezer where they are frozen in 15 minutes in 35 degree below zero temperatures.

Once frozen, the fish are covered with batter and are breaded with a combination of toasted wheat, corn and wheat flour.

Market Sampled

Workers then weigh the fish for packaging in 1 pound and 3 1/2 pound packages. They are sealed in plastic, then boxed and put back in a freezer that holds storage temperatures to 10 degrees below zero until they can be shipped to the retail market.

Sample marketing has been done in the Upper Peninsula and in Detroit and Ann Arbor. Reception of the frozen fish fillets has been excellent from both retailers and customers, said Flehman.

The fish also were selected as part of the U. S. Trade Center's food fair exhibits in Italy, England, and Germany in early April.

To explore more inexpensive harvesting methods, the Bureau contracted with two private fishing firms to perform experimental trawling on Lake Superior. Each of these two firms supplied one boat and they now are producing most of the chub and smelt for the pilot plant operation.

Fishing Archaic

"Many of our fishermen have been fishing just as they did 100 years ago," said Flehman. "We hope to show them that there are cheaper and more up-to-date methods of fishing."

By regulating the market, the Bureau also expects that a fair year-round price can be maintained for fishermen. We can now guarantee ten cents per pound for fresh herring, five cents for small chubs, and four cents for smelt," Flehman said.

Besides stabilizing the market price, another obvious advantage of being able to store the quick-frozen fish is that, now a year-round work force can be established.

The workers can concentrate on breeding and packaging operations during months when fish supply is low and then switch to the cleaning and freezing production line when fish supplies are plentiful.

Oswald: "The finesse is undoubtedly the best known play in bridge. A few players hate to finesse but for everyone of that type there must be hundreds who finesse when they really shouldn't."

Jim: "South was one of these finesse - happy individuals. He played dummy's ten of spades at trick one and was delighted when it held the trick. This put him in dummy and gave him a chance to try the trump finesse. It lost to the king and then the hand collapsed on poor South. West led the four of spades. East ruffed and returned a club. West took his ace and set the hand with another spade lead to be ruffed by his partner."

Oswald: "South's play was really bad. He could only gain a trick by the finesse if East had started with exactly the king and one trump because he could not get back to dummy to repeat. He would lose a trick if West held a singleton king and also he should have recognized the danger signal when East played the nine of spades at trick one. Of course, if South had gone up with his ace of hearts and led a second heart the defense could still have gotten one ruff but it took two ruffs to beat his game contract."

Jim: "I mentioned that East returned a club to put West in. This lead did not represent blind luck. East and West were using obvious suit preference signals and when West led the four of spades he knew that his partner was going to ruff it. He led his lowest spade to tell his partner to return the lower side suit. If West had wanted a diamond return he would have led the eight of spades, or even the queen had he wanted to be sensational."

Ann Landers

Feed His Vanity, Lady, He Needs It

Dear Ann Landers: I suppose I should be happy my husband is not a slob, but I'm beginning to think the other extreme is just as bad. Here is a sample of what goes on in our house before we leave for an evening, and it is driving me crazy.

He says, "Do I look O.K.?" I say, "Yes. You look fine, dear." He says, "Is this tie right with this shirt?" I say, "Honey, your tie is perfect." He says, "Are you sure my pants aren't too long?" I say, "No, dear, your pants are just right." He says, "Did I get a good haircut this time or did the barber take too much off over the ears?" I say, "Your haircut is beautiful, dear."

Just as we get out the door he'll say, "Is this jacket right with these trousers or should I go back and put on my herringbone?" I say, "Your jacket is perfect, dear." When we get in the car he says, "Do you think I should have put on my brown shoes?" I say, "These shoes are fine, dear."

Then when I ask, "How do you think I look tonight?" he answers, "Why must you always fish for compliments? I'm getting awfully tired building you up."

What can I do with a guy like this?—M.L.

Dear M.L.: Nothing, so don't try. A man who is so unsure of himself is not going to give his wife much bolstering. So just continue to prop him up and feed his vanity because he sure does need it, lady.

Dear Ann Landers: If you do not accomplish anything in your life, the way you have put the spotlight on mental illness deserves a medal.

I was deeply moved by the letter from the young woman whose mother - in - law accused her of using her "nerves" as an excuse to avoid responsibility. I'm an older woman who must work to support myself. I am the victim of "nerves" or mental illness—or I am just plain nuts, whatever anybody wants to call it.

My children think I am faking and feeling sorry for myself. They are tired of me, but they are not half as tired as I am—of myself. At times I wish I could just die and get out of their way, but I keep hoping tomorrow will be better. Mental illness is impossible to describe to a person who has good mental health. It's like trying to describe hell. It's unreal. It's a million miles from nowhere. It has no beginning and no end.

Please tell your readers who can live reasonably normal lives, free of horrible depressions and agonizing fears, that they should thank God for every day. They are truly blessed. —STILL FIGHTING

Dear Fighting: I have had dozens of letters today from people who share your problem. Your letter said it best, however. Chin up, and thank you for writing.

Confidential to Meant Well: If a vicious remark like that is your idea of "meaning well," what's your idea of a stab in the back? You sound like a woman who has an instinct for the jugular. You owe her an apology and if she accepts it consider yourself lucky.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Five students from Escanaba are among the 1,000 students to receive degrees from Michigan State College. They are: Glen Bernard Lewis bachelor of arts in business administration; John F. Reynolds, bachelor of arts in hotel administration; John W. Stephens, bachelor of science in chemical engineering; Robert Kamrath, bachelor of science in applied science, and Frank J. Karas, bachelor of science in physical education.

50 Years Ago

Today, June 5, declared a national holiday, on which all men in the country were to register for service it needed in the military and naval forces of the United States. All businessmen in the city closed their doors for the day, most of the societies and organizations of the city appeared in a parade down Ludington St.

WRECKAGE OF a chartered British airliner is shown after the four-engine propeller-driven plane crashed into the center of the industrial city of Stockport, England Sunday. Police said 72 aboard were killed. The plane, with 78 passengers and five crew members, was returning with holidaymakers from Majorca. (AP Wirephoto)

Crashes Of Old Planes Kill 160

LONDON (AP)—Britain's air safety rules came under close scrutiny today following the death of 160 Britons in the crash of two chartered holiday airliners.

On Saturday night a Douglas DC4 bound for Perpignan, France, smashed into the foothills of the Pyrenes, killing all 88 aboard.

Sunday, a four-engine Argonaut coming home from Majorca plummeted into the center of the northern city of Stockport, killing 72 of the passengers and injuring 12. The plane crashed in the only clear area for miles around, and nobody on the ground was hurt.

Both planes were owned by private British airlines. Both were propeller-driven veterans around 20 years old. Both had been retired from service by bigger airlines as they bought newer aircraft. And both crashes came during the landing approach.

The prototype for both planes was designed in 1939. The Argonaut is a Canadian model of the Douglas DC4 with British instead of American engines.

Rambler Plans 2 New Models

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — Investments in plant, equipment and tooling by American Motors Corp. will reach a six-year cumulative total of $300 million by the end of the current fiscal year, board chairman Roy D. Chapin said today.

Chapin made the announcement at the regular monthly meeting of the AMC board of directors.

Chapin said AMC will enter the 1968 model year with its strongest product line ever. He cited two new AMC car models, the Javelin and the AMX, a new Kelvinator home appliance line and expanded safety and performance testing facilities as examples of the company's optimistic outlook.

The four millionth Rambler built since the name was revived in 1950 was built at an AMC plant today, Chapin said.

Search Continues At Cedar River

The search near Cedar River for Charles Fullam, 35, continued without success this morning.

Fullam, who is described as about 5-foot, 10 - inches tall, 168 pounds with long blonde hair and blue eyes, is wanted on warrants charging felonious assault, robbery, rape and kidnapping.

The warrants were issued Saturday after an elderly couple allegedly was robbed of $62 and the woman raped in Ingallston Township of Mc... County. Arlene Watson, 35, being held as an accessory in the case under $10,000 bond.

Grant

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Ford Foundation today granted $900,000 to the University of Michigan for research and training of China specialists. The five-year grant will pay for historical, social, economic and political studies as a part of a nationwide move to train more experts on China.

Blackout Hits East Coast Area

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A giant power failure hit sections of the East Coast from New Jersey to Delaware at midmorning today. Electricity was restored in sections of Philadelphia an hour later.

The blackout hit Newark and Philadelphia and other cities in a populous area that was not affected by the great Northeastern blackout of November, 1965.

New York City and other areas hit by the 1965 blackout were not affected this time.

In Philadelphia, subway workers used flashlights to lead trapped train riders in single file through darkened tunnels to the street. Water power was down and police and fire departments were put on the alert.

The Pennsylvania Railroad said no trains were moving into or out of Philadelphia, but it was hoped that emergency power would get them rolling again soon.

Traffic jams were reported throughout the affected area as automatic signal lights failed. In Philadelphia's center city, there was a huge snarl with cars and trucks stopped, and office and factory workers milling about the streets.

In New Jersey, only Atlantic City escaped the blackout.

Trains still operated in the tubes under the Hudson River

Police Caution Residents About 'Bargain' Repairs

Sgt. W. I. Treichel, commander of the State Police post at Gladstone, today issued another warning to local residents to be extremely cautious in dealing with transient painters, roof repairmen or septic tank cleaners, etc.

The sergeant pointed out that residents have been "bilked" of sizable sums of money in the past from people who travel through the area, sell "service" to someone at a "bargain," then move to another area before the poor quality of the job is discovered.

Treichel said the State Police have information indicating that another group of transients may be moving into this area and cautioned anyone contacted to first check with the State Police post or local Chamber of Commerce before contracting for a service.

He urged anyone needing painting, roofing or septic tank service, etc., to contact a reputable, locally-established firm.

Draft Failures High Despite Lower Standard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite lowered mental standards, more than 176,000 American youths were rejected for the draft last year because they were unable to meet even those requirements.

Another 23,555 were turned down on both mental and medical grounds at preinduction examinations in 1966.

The lower standards, however, resulted in only about 12 per cent of potential draftees flunking mental requirements in 1966 compared with nearly 21 per cent in 1965.

"The most significant factor that affected these results was the increased demand for military manpower caused by the intensified Vietnam conflict," the surgeon general's report said.

between New York and New Jersey because they draw power from both states.

The Port of New York Authority reported service stopped out of Newark and Jersey City and there was doubt about Hoboken.

Flat Rock Asks School Millage

The annual school election will be held in Escanaba Township on June 12, Supt. Leo Brunelle said today.

Two vacancies on the school board are to be filled. The two incumbents, Ralph McGeary and Francis Flagstad have filed petitions as well as Joseph Gareau.

Flagstad, however, because of illness, withdrew his petition and the election becomes a formality and without a contest.

At a special meeting the Board of Education went on record to ask the voters to approve a levy of 4.3 mills for one year only, to qualify the school district for full state aid.

The State has set local participation at 11 mills to qualify for full state aid payments.

The Allocation Board set the school allocation at 6.7 mills, making it necessary for the Board to ask the voters for 4.3 mills to meet the State requirement of 11 mills.

Failure to vote the 4.3 mills would cripple the educational program at the Flat Rock School. It would mean a loss of approximately $24,000 in state aid, Brunelle said.

A "yes" vote is asked for by the Board of Education, the superintendent added.

Cavanagh Recall Effort Still Is Short Of Backers

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Councilwoman Mary V. Beck says it will take two more months to obtain enough signatures on petitions to force a vote on whether to recall Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh from office.

Miss Beck, who launched the recall drive May 6, said 42,000 signatures have been obtained, about one-third of the 115,000 needed.

United Auto Workers Union Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey says that he opposes the recall move.

Mazey told delegates to the Wayne County AFL-CIO convention in suburban Livonia Saturday that Cavanagh is doing a good job "under extremely difficult circumstances."

He did, however, charge that Cavanagh did not keep "the faith" with the voters when he ran for U.S. Senate last year.

Father Shoots Children, Self

LOWELL (AP) — A father apparently shot his two children, killing his daughter and critically wounding his son, early today before turning an automatic pistol on himself, police said.

Patrolman Lawrence Pelon said the children were found in the rear of a station wagon parked on Fremont Street near the city cemetery. He said they were covered with a blanket as though they had been sleeping. Pelon said the man's body was found in the front seat of the vehicle.

DANCE STUDENTS of the LeCaptain School of Dance will perform in their annual revue on Wednesday and Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Escanaba Area High School Auditorium. The revue will feature, "Alice in Topsy Turvy Land." Pictured above are dancers from the "Outer Space," number. From left are, Susan Vogt, Naomi Flath and Patricia Jacobs. Tickets are available at the door or from the dance school students. (Daily Press Photo)

Bobby Kennedy Lauds Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson got a big political windfall in New York over the weekend—a surprisingly warm and unqualified endorsement from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

After months of talk of feuding and ill will, Kennedy followed Johnson to the rostrum at a Democratic fund-raising dinner Saturday night and, addressing his fellow New Yorkers, gave his all-out blessing for 1968 to Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Kennedy, in effect, overshadowed the President's own speech.

"Record Large" — Webster defines greatness as largeness of size, much above the average in magnitude, intensity and importance," Kennedy said, adding that the definition could have been written for Johnson.

"The height of his aim, the breadth of his achievements, the record of his past and the promises of his future—all these speak the largeness of size, that magnitude of effort, that intensity of devotion and that importance of accomplishment," said Kennedy.

Johnson Pleased — Kennedy has previously endorsed Johnson and Humphrey for 1968 but not in such lengthy or effusive terms. And his embrace came only a few days after the latest of moves by Kennedy supporters—whom he has disavowed—to place his name on some presidential primary election ballots.

That Johnson was elated with Kennedy's unrestrained endorsement was evident. Some wondered if he wouldn't in the future look to Kennedy with greater warmth—and vice versa.

Banker Dies

PETOSKEY (AP) — Art Hitchmough, 57, senior vice president of the First State Bank of Petoskey, died of an apparent heart attack at the Petoskey-Bay View Country Club Saturday.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Sharon A. Bastian, 318 N. 12th St., and to Patrick P. Coan, 413 S. 7th St., both for speeding and competitive driving.

Gregg Johnson, 5, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Johnson of 2215 25th Ave. S., was bitten in the back by a dog Sunday afternoon, it was reported to city police. The dog is owned by Ronald Lankford, 2519 S. 22nd St., police said.

Sandra Valliquette, 5, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Valliquette of 226 N. 18th St., was bitten in the back by a dog owned by Jerry Couillard, it was reported to city police. Officers said the dog was not running at large.

The banquet reservation deadline for Rebecca District 39 banquet to be held on June 12, at 12:00 noon at the First Methodist Church has been extended to June 8th. Phoebe Rebecca Lodge No. 179 members are invited and reservations may be made by calling Doris Pakarinen at ST 6-7514.

Congressman Phil Ruppe (R-Mich) announces that one vacancy to the 1967 Military Academy classes at West Point was not filled by candidates previously nominated. Since the 1967 deadline is passed, Ruppe is accepting applications for the 1968 Military Academy classes.

Traffic summonses were issued by State Police over the weekend to Raymond H. Leach, Rte. 1, Rock, no helmet while driving motorcycle; Herman H. Oberg, Lake Shore Dr., Escanaba, improper parking on main traveled portion of roadway; John W. Baltusaitis, 513 N. 13th St., Gladstone, no proof of insurance, and Richard J.P. Lucas Rte. 1, Ishpeming, speeding.

The U.P. American Legion Convention Executive Committee, auxiliary and other committee chairmen will meet for the last time before the convention at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Govt. Power Wins A Round

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court barred today immediate construction by a private power group of a major regulating dam on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon.

The 6-2 decision directed the Federal Power Commission to reconsider its licensing order. Justice William O. Douglas said the court is taking no position on whether the dam should be built by private or public groups — or whether it should be built at all.

The issue of long standing, is the present major one in the contest between private and public power interests.

"The test is whether the project will be in the public interest," Douglas said.

"And that determination can be made only after an exploration of all issues relevant to the 'public interest.'"

Robbed

DETROIT (AP) — Three armed bandits tied up four residents of an East Side rooming house Sunday then stole $1,300, a phonograph and all of one couple's clothing, police said. A neighbor said the trio carted the goods away in three cars.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

More than 30 conservation-minded groups have been invited to join the new organization—Pollution Action Line—which will observe and report pollution violations to state and local authorities.

But if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation.

MAY 24 WAS PASTY DAY by proclamation of Gov. George Romney and in observance, members of the Michigan Congressional delegation assembled to enjoy the Northern Michigan dish meat pies. Mrs. Philip E. Ruppe, wife of the 11th District Congressman from Houghton, prepared the pasties for some of her husband's colleagues, including Congressman James Harvey, a native of Iron Mountain and now representative from the Saginaw area, left, and Robert Griffin. During the Washington celebration, Mrs. Ruppe recalled that James Allen, superintendent of the Doelle School in Chassell, first suggested that a Pasty Day be held as part of the Michigan Week festivities.

McDivitt Marshals Jackson Festival

JACKSON (AP) — Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt of Jackson, one of America's astronauts, has tentatively agreed to be grand marshal for the Rose Festival Parade in Jackson June 18.

A firm commitment is expected Monday.

McDivitt said he would head the parade unless unforeseen changes are made in the schedule of his Air Force duties.

The colonel and his wife, Pat, plan to spend Father's Day in Jackson with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. McDivitt Sr.

McDivitt is scheduled to address the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association meeting June 16-17 at Hidden Valley, near Gaylord.

UPCAP To Name New Director At Sault Meet

A nomination for a new executive director will be presented to the delegate body at its annual meeting on Tuesday at the DelMar Hotel in Sault Ste. Marie.

Also on the agenda is election of officers and several reports on current UPCAP programs and projects.

The personnel committee of UPCAP will meet with the delegate body in a special closed session at 10 a.m. to select a new executive director to replace Joseph V. Tuma, who resigned in January to accept a manpower utilization specialist position with the University of Michigan. More than 40 applications have been made to the personnel committee for UPCAP's principal staff position.

Following the selection of the new director, officers will be nominated and elected to fill seven executive committee positions. Present UPCAP officers include Harold Dettman, St. Ignace, chairman; Lynn Sandberg, L'Anse, vice-chairman; Harold Vanlerberghe, Escanaba, secretary; Fred Hahne, Manistique, treasurer; Mrs. Geraldine DeFaut, Marquette, Community Action Agency board member; Dr. Claud Bosworth, Marquette, university board member; and Rev. Louis Cappel, Hubbell, Economic Development District board member.

Reports will be made on three current UPCAP activities. These include a report on the Economic Development Program by Ray Gummerson, Michigan State University delegate. Information will be provided on the current industrial development projects, the proposed Economic Development Districts, tourism and recreation, the housing and urban development study, transportation and marketing, crafts program development, and the status of the UPCAP EDA grant.

In the Economic Opportunity Program report, emphasis will be made on four current UPCAP supported programs: Community Action Program, Small Business Development Center, Legal Aid to the Indigent and the Neighborhood Youth Corps Program.

A final series of reports will cover UPCAP's role in present manpower activities. Dr. Richard Zabelka, Lake Superior State College, will outline the on-the-job training program and Kenneth Light, Lake Superior State College, will explain the tri-county manpower program. During the luncheon program Tuma will present his final report as executive Director.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the first general session is slated for 10:30 a.m. The public is invited.

May Car Sales Cheer Makers

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto makers, after four months of sales that dimly trailed the 1966 pace, had the best sales month in May in more than a year.

Last month's sales, preliminary reports showed Friday, were a healthy eight per cent — 47,600 cars — above sales in May 1966.

The 823,797 vehicles that rolled out of dealer showrooms in May outnumbered those sold in any month back to March 1966, when customers bought 853,978.

General Motors, with all five of its divisions showing sharp upswings, led the surge with 471,530 vehicles sold, up 18 per cent — 70,041 — from May 1966.

Chrysler sales hit 121,547, up six per cent from May 1966 and American Motors had sales of 22,602, a 5.4 per cent increase.

Only Ford Motor Co., second largest of the U.S. auto builders, had sales still lagging behind last year's May rate. Ford sales of 208,117 were down 18 per cent, or 28,928 cars, compared to May 1966.

Detroit Police Clear Park Of Motorcyclists

DETROIT (AP) — What began as a peaceful, if unusual, weekend — long picnic ended abruptly Sunday evening when Detroit police dispersed a motorcyclists "hate-in."

Police moved in and cleared the motorcyclists out of Rouge Park when they feared things would get out of hand late in the afternoon.

More than 80 policemen, including 20 from the riot-trained Tactical Mobile Unit and 20 mounted officers, swept through the park and closed it at about 5 p.m.

About 150 motorcyclists and 100 spectators were evacuated from the park.

The "hate-in" was called by a Detroit motorcycle club to protest a proposed city ordinance that would require motorcyclists to obtain permits before driving their cycles in city parks.

Welfare Earnings Subject To Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says welfare recipients who are required to work under a state work relief program are subject to federal income taxes on their earnings.

In a formal ruling, the service said payments made by a state welfare agency under its work relief program must be included in taxable income by the recipient and are subjected to withholding of income taxes.

Welfare payments in cash, food, or other items which are not directly attributable to the work performed are not subject to federal income tax, the agency added.

Bankmobile Sets Hijack Guards

ST. JOHNS (AP) — The day may come when bank robbers steal the whole bank, not just the money.

An innovation of the Clinton National Bank & Trust Co. is a 28-foot van utilized as a mobile bank to serve more than one rural community.

The bankmobile is equipped with two teller stations, customer desks, a manager's office and lavatory.

The bankers have taken precautions against hijacking, however. At each location, such as the one in St. Johns, the bankmobile is driven into a garage like structure. Customers enter the bank through a lobby in the building.

Dianne Johnson Bride Of Arthur W. Simpkin

Bouquets of white gladiolus and white carnations adorned the altars of the Calvary Lutheran Church of Bark River Saturday, June 3 for the wedding of Miss Dianne Laverne Johnson of Shorewood, Wis. and Arthur Wayne Simpkin of White Fish Bay, Wis.

Officiating at the double ring nuptials at 2 p.m. was the Rev. George A. Olson. Soloists for the wedding were Ruth and Regina Olson, cousins of the bride and traditional organ music was provided by Mrs. Russell Case.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith D. Johnson of Rte. 2, Rapid River and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas Simpkin of White Fish Bay, Wis.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Walter Flinn of Escanaba, sister of the bride, matron of honor; Miss Karen Olson of Escanaba and Miss Kris Johnson of Rapid River, bridesmaids.

White Satepeau

The bride chose a floor length A-line gown of white satepeau styled with a scoop neckline and detachable chapel train. Swiss embroidered scrollwork and seed pearls trimmed the neckline and train.

A double hairbraid crown held her elbow length veil of imported illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of red sweetheart roses and white carnations.

The bridal aides were attired in identical light blue acetate taffeta gowns styled with high rise waists and wattleau back panels. Matching velvet bow headpieces and wisp veils completed their attire and they carried cascade bouquets of white carnations with light blue ribbon streamers. Their heart shaped necklaces were a gift of the bride.

Serving as bestman was Glen S. Kile of White Fish Bay and groomsmen were Charles Harris of Naperville, Ill., and Richard Varne of White Fish Bay. The groomsmen also acted as ushers for the wedding.

Mrs. Johnson wore for her daughter's wedding a petal pink dress with white accessories and Mrs. Simpkin chose a yellow jacket dress with yellow and white accessories. Both mothers were presented lavender orchid corsages.

Reception

The wedding reception was held at Calvary Lutheran parish hall. Assisting with duties were Miss Deanna Dutton of Grand Rapids, Miss Judith Vietzke, Miss Ruth Ann Gullickson, Miss Kathy Vau and Miss Lois Greenlund, all of Rapid River. The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at Jack's Half Way House.

Following a honeymoon tour through Wisconsin and Illinois the newlyweds will reside at 1905 E. Newton in Shorewood, Wis.

Special guests attending the wedding included grandparents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Haefl of Chicago City, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simpkin of Hannibal, Mo., and Mrs. Clara Culler of White Fish Bay. Out of town guests attended from Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois and Ohio.

Tigers Earn Split Against Yanks With McAuliffe's Homer

NEW YORK (AP) — Being a sensible fellow, Detroit's Dick McAuliffe sought a diplomatic solution when the New York bench came charging toward second base in the eighth inning of Sunday's doubleheader night game at Yankee Stadium.

His reasonable approach to violence saved McAuliffe from being run over and kept him around for the hero's role in the Tigers' 13-inning 11-7 victory.

It was McAuliffe's grand slam homer that broke up the game in the 13th and gained Detroit a split. Al Downing's neat five-hitter had given the Yankees the upper hand.

Downing, who struck out six, ran his record to 6-3. Joe Pepitone smashed a two-run homer and Bill Robinson had an inside-the-park shot.

The Tigers were sitting on a 7-6 lead with two out and Robinson on first base in the bottom of the eighth in the nightcap when trouble flared. Robinson broke for second but got a slow jump and was caught in a rundown.

In the chase, second baseman McAuliffe wound up covering first. Robinson barreled into shortstop Ray Oyler as he dove for second and the two went after each other. Both benches emptied and suddenly McAuliffe was the only man between the Yankees and the melee.

"Elston Howard was the first man out there," McAuliffe said. "He had all his catching gear on. I said, 'Now, Elston, we're friends. I don't want any trouble with you. Let's just stay here.'"

The diplomacy worked. If Howard had known what McAuliffe would do in the 13th, he might not have been so peaceful.

Oyler admitted jumping at Robinson after tagging him. "He hit me with his elbow and I just lost my head," the Tigers' shortstop said.

Robinson said Oyler tagged him in the face. "I got mad but I'm glad no one got hurt."

Frank Umont, the second base umpire, laughed the incident off. "It was just a typical baseball fight," he said. "Everybody just held everybody else off."

The 33,454 fans got more excitement in the bottom of the ninth when Jake Gibbs' pinch hit homer tied the game for the Yankees. But that just set the stage for McAuliffe.

Bill Freehan opened the 13th with a double. One out and two walks later, McAuliffe unloaded his fifth career grand slam.

That gave the victory to Johnny Podres, who pitched 2-3 innings of scoreless relief.

Podres, who 12 years ago shut out the Yankees at the Stadium for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the seventh game of the World Series, grinned.

"I just love pitching in Yankee Stadium," he said.

Hill Pockets Best Payoff

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — His lead in the Memphis Open Golf Tournament dwindling, Dave Hill remembered four years ago at the Hot Springs Open when he overheard someone in the gallery remark: "Hill's folding up."

He didn't fold then, and he mustered enough courage and shook off the butterflies Sunday to win the $100,000 Memphis

Open and the biggest check of his 10-year career—$20,000.

Through the first three rounds here, Hill steadily increased his lead to five strokes but began to skid Sunday when Johnny Pott made a dramatic surge on the last 10 holes.

Pott, playing one group in front of Hill, narrowed the gap to three strokes by the time he reached the 18th tee.

Hill knew Pott was gaining, so he buckled down on 17 after suffering four bogeys and a double bogey. He drove the 17th green in one and got his par-3.

On the last hole, he put his second shot into a sand trap, blasted out and two putts gave him a par and the championship.

He finished at eight under par 272 and Pott at 274.

"I think the toughest thing in the world is to lead a tournament when everybody is expecting you to fall flat on your face," he said.

"Unless you're an Arnold Palmer or a Gary Player, you expect you to fall ... and I was heading in that direction."

Hill said he had never blisters, a shaky stomach and a string of sleepless nights to prove it's a nerve-shattering experience to lead all the way.

Before leaving here for the Buck Open this week at Flint, Mich., he planned to shoot a U.S. Open qualifying round here today.

Holy Name Athletes Win Singles, Doubles Crowns In U.P. Tennis Tourney

MARQUETTE — Holy Name High School athletes captured individual honors in the Upper Peninsula tennis finals here Saturday, winning both the singles and doubles championships.

The Crusaders, who entered the annual prep roundup with a perfect season record, finished third in the team standings behind Stambaugh and the host Marquette Redmen.

The team scores were Stambaugh 21 1/2, Marquette 18 1/2, Holy Name 17, Escanaba 9 1/2, Wakefield 8 1/2, Negaunee 7 1/2.

Menominee 7 1/2, Iron Mountain 5 1/2, Crystal Falls 3 1/2, Kingsford 2 1/2, Alpha 2, Gwinn 1 1/2, Ishpeming 1 1/2, Marquette 0, Baraga 0.

Sophomore Steve Fisher battled his way through the rugged singles competition, winning the championship by defeating Craig Collard of Menominee in the finals, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. Fisher had earlier defeated Collard, also a sophomore, for the top singles position in the Great Northern Conference.

Other netters falling victim to the Crusader athlete were Bob Hersh of Crystal Falls, 6-3, 6-3, Loren Ameen of Marquette, 6-1, 6-3, Bruce Hoen of Negaunee, 6-3, 6-3, Jeff Anderson of Marquette, 6-0, 6-4.

Steve Houle and John Way, like Fisher, sailed through their doubles foes without a setback to reach the finals where they bested Bizzard and Palmer of Stambaugh 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Enroute to the title match they downed Leraux-Olson of Kingsford, 6-1, 6-2, Holmes-Roberts of Escanaba, 6-0, 6-2, Shquist-Baldicci of Stambaugh 6-2, 6-4.

Houle is a sophomore and Way a senior.

Eastern Plays In NAIA Meet

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Eastern Michigan today carries a 29-13 record into the 11th annual NAIA Baseball Tourney.

The Chips, boasting a 2.71 earned run average in pitching, probably will start right-hander Tom Allen against Georgia Southern in the first game of the double elimination tournament.

Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks led National Hockey League scorers in goals last season with 52. But he had only 23 assists and finished second in the scoring race to teammate Stan Mikita who had 62 assists for 97 points. Hull scored 80 points.

Talk Pennant Now

Red Sox Acquire Bell Of Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — The surprising Boston Red Sox, picked in most preseason baseball forecasts for an eighth or ninth-place finish, talked pennant today after acquiring veteran right-hander Gary Bell from the Cleveland Indians.

General Manager Dick O'Connell and Manager Dick Williams, swept up by the players' enthusiasm and determination, agreed with unusual optimism that Bell could make the Red Sox a top contender in the American League race.

"This is one of those years when it looks like the pennant is up for grabs," O'Connell said. "I think we can win it. We've bolstered our starting pitching with experience and ability."

Williams, a 38-year-old former major league utility player with a hard nose and iron fist in his first season as Boston manager, admitted he was "overjoyed" by the trade announced Sunday minutes after the Red Sox dropped a 3-0 decision to the Indians.

"Our guys have felt all along we have a chance to win it all and I think this will give us a good shot at it," Williams said. The Red Sox went after Bell after obtaining reserve infielder Jerry Adair from the Chicago White Sox for veteran relief pitcher Don McMahon and a minor league hurler Friday night.

The deal with the Indians was swung at the risk of weakening the Boston bench. The Red Sox gave up two right-handed sluggers, first baseman Tony Horton and outfielder Don Demeter, to get Bell.

Despite a 1-5 record, including a pair of losses to the Red Sox this season, the 29-year-old Bell boasts a .96-92 mark since joining the Indians in 1958.

Ontonagon Pair Wins Best Ball Tournament

GLADSTONE — A blazing finish, featuring birdies on their last four holes, led Jim Strong and John Milakovich of Ontonagon to first place in the best ball golf tournament staged on the Days River course here Saturday and Sunday.

The Ontonagon duo nipped a pair of Michigan Tech students, Bill Peterson and Dick Swadski, in an extra hole sudden-death playoff after finishing in a deadlock with 139 strokes at the end of the regulation 36 holes.

Milakovich dropped a birdie putt on the 37th hole for the victory. Strong had nailed birds on the last three holes of the regulation match.

The tournament drew 53 teams from clubs in the Upper Peninsula Golf Association. Golfers played 18 holes to qualify and were placed into six flights.

Three teams tied for the No. 3 spot in the championship flight of the tourney. Tied with 143s were Dave Andrews-Dave Erickson of Escanaba, Dean Roddy-Dave Friets of Gladstone and Highland and Francis Peterson-Phil Legault of Gladstone.

Andrews and Erickson, medalists in qualifying with a 69, led most of the way and needed only pars on the final two holes to tie the leaders.

Results in other flights:

Second flight: Jim Nettle-

George Kuivenen of Marquette first with 145, Jim Douglas-Mel Manske of Highland and J. C. Miller-Jim Sundelius of Gladstone second with 146s.

Clark Lambros-Paul Specker of Marquette fourth with 147.

Third flight: Dick Knoll-Bill Eis Jr. of Escanaba first with 146, Gene Harris-Jim Farrell of Gladstone second with 149.

Bob Redman-Tom Niles of Marquette and Len Brown-Wayne Gustafson of Newberry tied for third with 150s.

Fourth flight: Bill Wood-Pete Peterson of Gladstone first with 148, Ray Knaut of Newberry-Jim Hirn of Escanaba second with 154, Barney Barnhart-Bob Boucher of Highland and Leo Despins-John Howard of Iron Mountain tied for third with 156s.

Fifth flight: Everett Sloan-John Schaepe of Newberry first with 156, Jim Damitz-Ron Anderson of Gladstone second with 158, Cappy Kell-Coco Tibergen of Gladstone and Jim Marlette-Bob Marlette of Iron Mountain tied for third with 163s.

Karras To Quit Pro Football?

DETROIT (AP) — After shoring up their offense in the college draft this year, the National Football League Detroit Lions are threatened with the loss of defensive mainstay Alex Karras.

Karras, titan of the Lions' defense since 1958 and a four-time all-NFL pick, told the Detroit News Saturday "I don't think I'll be playing next season."

He said he'd started a new corporation, Alex Karras Sports Enterprises, which sells oscillating massage machines, and that the venture "takes up an awful lot of my time."

The 32-year-old defensive tackle has six years left on the $35,000-a-year, seven-year contract he signed with the Lions in May 1966.

"The contract would be null and void if I don't show up for training camp on July 17 this summer," he said.

Karras said he wants to play for the Lions' new head coach Joe Schmidt. But "I can't go on and at 37 look for a new job. I have a family to think about."

Always known as a strong defensive team, the Lions this year signed Notre Dame's slashing halfback Nick Eddy and Mel Farr, a powerful fullback from UCLA to bolster their offense.

Owner William Clay Ford said "I can't believe Karras is quitting. He'd probably say something to Schmidt beforehand."

"Knowing Alex and the way he loves to play football," said Ford, "I'm sure he'll be with us next season."

Schmidt was unavailable for comment.

Karras was an all-Pro pick in 1960, 1961, 1962 and 1965.

He missed the 1963 season when he was suspended by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle after a betting investigation.

Yacht Racing Gets Underway

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP) — The preliminary trials to select the U.S. defender against Australia in the America's Cup was scheduled to get under way on Long Island Sound today, with the new Intrepid the yacht to beat.

Intrepid, skippered by the veteran Bus Mosbacher, scored successive victories over three other 12-meter yachts in the New York Yacht Club Regatta over the weekend and loomed as a likely favorite.

There will be two other sets of trials, off Newport, R.I., from July 6-18 and from Aug. 15 until the New York Yacht Club makes its selection for the yacht to meet the Australian craft in the America's Cup races beginning Sept. 12 off Newport.

Barber Leaves Baltimore Team

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pitcher Steve Barber quit the Baltimore Orioles Sunday night and failed to accompany the team on its flight from Baltimore to Anaheim, Calif., where the Orioles open a five-game series tonight.

The 28-year-old left-hander was knocked out of the box during a five-run rally by the Washington Senators in the fifth inning Sunday. The Orioles eventually won 7-5 in the 19th inning on a two-run homer by Andy Etchebarren.

According to a report by Lou Hatter of the Baltimore Sun, who is traveling with the Orioles, Barber walked away from the world champions' jet moments before it took off from Baltimore's Friendship Airport for the West Coast.

Barber reportedly told an airlines' official, who followed him into the terminal building, "Tell them to go on without me. I quit."

According to the airlines' official, Barber also said, "I can't come any place close to finding my groove."

Barber made the statement after lifting his bag from the plane's baggage compartment and walking away.

Harvey Dalton, the Orioles' director of player personnel, told the Associated Press in Baltimore that Barber had left the club. Dalton said he had not talked to Barber, but that he hoped to contact him sometime today.

Abel Not Happy With Draft Site

DETROIT (AP) — Sid Abel, manager-coach of the Detroit Red Wings, isn't happy about the National Hockey League's expansion draft being held on the road.

Abel is fearful that the draft might be as disastrous for the Wings as their road record of 6-28-1 last year.

The Wings' contingent of 10, headed by Abel and owner Bruce Norris, go to Montreal for Tuesday's draft in which 240 players will be shuffled, 120 of them to stock six new NHL clubs.

"It's that old story of winning a few and losing a few," Abel said. "I just hope our losses aren't as costly as our road losses last year."

He said the Wings have settled on their "protected list" of one goalie and 11 forwards and defensemen.

In the draft, each new club will pick 18 forwards and defensemen and two goalies for its $2 million franchise. The new teams are Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Philadelphia and California.

The other 120 players will be shifted around to fill the gaps left by those picked in the draft.

The NHL starts its season in October as a 12-team coast-to-coast operation.

Mrs. E. LeRoux Dies Saturday

Mrs. Irene LeRoux, 66, of 515 Superior Ave., Gladstone, died late Saturday morning at St. Francis Hospital where she was a patient for 2 days.

She was born on March 15, 1901 in Flat Rock and resided in Gladstone for the past 50 years. She was a member of All Saint's Church.

She is survived by her husband, Edward J.; one son, Ray Joy, of Detroit, and one daughter, Mrs. Paul F. (Nathalie) Cowen of Gladstone, and 12 grandchildren.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Irma Torrien, Mrs. Oscar (Emma) Cederberg, Mrs. Robert (Flora) Moore, all of Gladstone; six brothers, Aldrich Therman of Flat Rock, Freddie of Detroit, Eugene and Edward of Escanaba, Rayne of Cornell, and Albert of Gladstone.

Friends may call after 3 p.m. today at the Skradski Funeral Home. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at All Saint's Church in Gladstone with Msgr. Matt LaVolette officiating. Burial will be in the Fernwood Cemetery in Gladstone.

Class Of 1948 Meeting Tonight

The 1948 graduating class of the James T. Jones School will hold a reunion meeting tonight in the teachers lounge at 7:30. All members of the class are invited.

Briefly Told

Minnewasca Chapter 96, OES will hold a regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

August Mattson Post 71, American Legion, will meet at the Legion Club at 7:30 tonight.

The Coterie will hold a luncheon meeting at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the House of Lodi.

Hostesses are Mrs. Robert Hupy and Mrs. George Kelly.

Gladstone Police ticketed Diane Blomfelt, Superior, Wis., for failing to stop for a stop sign and no operator's license after a minor accident; Mabel E. Moreau, 602 N. 15th St., improper right turn, and George M. Nadeau, Rte. 1, Gladstone, reckless driving and driving on revoked license.

Roisin Mary O'Toole, 31, of Toronto, Canada, was ticketed by State Police for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions, after a minor accident on U.S. 2 and 41 in Brampton Township at 1:25 p.m. Saturday. Thomas R. Menard, 17, of 825 N. 18th St., Escanaba, also was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law after he swerved to avoid another car and rolled over in a ditch off County Rd. 569 in Bark River Township at 3:55 p.m. Sunday. There were no injuries in either accident, officers said.

Destructive Pest

In 1954, a new pest called the alfalfa aphid arrived in California. Within one year it had inflicted a loss of $35 million in crop damage and cost of control, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

FUNERAL services for PFC Dwight R. Stockholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stockholm of 1327 Minnesota Ave., who was killed in action near Quang Tri, Vietnam on May 16 will be held at the Memorial Methodist Church in Gladstone at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. ## In Memoriam

Carey

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Clarence J. Carey, who passed away 1 year ago, June 5, 1966.
We mourn the loss of one we loved.
We did our best to save. Believed in life, regretted still.
Remembered in his grave. No more upon this earth. We'll see his gentle, loving face.
There is not one in the wide world.
Can ever take his place.

Sadly Missed by his Wife and Daughters

Lucy Gets 1st Emmy In Decade

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Don Knotts won his fifth Emmy as a jittery deputy sheriff and a weeping Lucille Ball got her first Emmy in 12 years at the Television Academy's 19th annual awards.

In a season blasted by many critics as generally poor, the award for outstanding comedy series went Sunday night to "The Monkees," the weekly antics of four Beatle-like musicians. NBC claims their "mod clothes and long hairdos reflect the 'now' attitude of today's teen-age generation."

At televised ceremonies in Los Angeles and New York hotels, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences chose also among winners for 1966-67.

Variety series: The Andy Williams Show.

Dramatic series: "Mission: Impossible."

Single dramatic program: "Death of a Salesman."

Musical program: "Brigadoon." This show won the most awards—five—collecting also for technical and lighting direction, electronic cameraman and variety direction.

Runner-up was "Mission: Impossible" with four statuettes.

Its feminine star, Barbara Bain, told a reporter: "I was totally surprised. I haven't had as liquid a pair of knees since the day I was married."

Her husband, Martin Landau, also of "Mission: Impossible," lost to Bill Cosby of "I Spy" in the race among actors in dramatic series.

Cosby, a Negro, repeated his win of last year. There was some surprise that the Emmy didn't go this time to his costar, Robert Culp, to even matters.

Don Knotts, collecting his Emmy as deputy Barney Fife on the Andy Griffith Show, said "I really don't know what to say except thank you very much."

Knotts won Emmies in 1961-63 as a regular on the series. Last year and this he won for guest appearances.

The show's Frances Bavier won a supporting-role Emmy after seven years of playing fussy, good-hearted Aunt Bea.

Writer-actor-director Carl Reiner won his 10th and 11th Emmies as performer and writer on the Sid Caesar Special.

CBS won the most Emmies—17. ABC, moving out of third for the first time, was next with 12. NBC, which usually see-saws in the lead with CBS, trailed with 10.

A dollar bill has an average life expectancy of 18 months in circulation.

Tax Needed For State Economy

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan economist says that a state income tax is the only possible solution to avoid a "brain drain" of the state's brightest people to other parts of the country.

Prof. William Haber, dean of the university's college of literature, science and the arts, said the state is still too dependent on the auto industry and will have to diversify if it is to thrive.

In 1964, Haber and two colleagues coauthored a short-range economic forecast called "Michigan in the 1970's," which predicted that no other state would undergo such drastic economic changes within a decade.

Haber says the forecast is still true and that the need for action is more pressing than ever.

"Tax reform is intimately tied up with our capacity to provide adequate financing for education at all levels," Haber said.

"Tax reform means an income tax and nothing else," he continued. "People who talk of nuisance taxes are talking of a temporary solution for one year."

Haber says the state will need 500,000 new jobs in the next 10 years and adds that the auto industry can only produce 100,000.

Offer Millions To Avert Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The anti-poverty agency expects to have all its special summer youth programs, designed to keep youngsters busy and avert racial unrest, in operation by June 20, informed sources say.

The Office of Economic Opportunity has allocated to its seven regional offices their share of the $28.7 million the anti-poverty agency received of the supplemental $75 million Congress appropriated May 25.

The Labor Department received the remainder for its Neighborhood Youth Corps. It plans to make available 341,000 summer job opportunities.

The OEO regional offices are in the process of soliciting local community action agencies to present proposed programs for the summer. These will be reviewed and, if approved, passed on to Washington for financing.

The local agencies can request funds for sports activities such as basketball and baseball leagues, other athletic contests and lighted swimming and playground facilities.

They also can propose programs for so-called cultural enrichment such as classes in arts and crafts, drama, music workshops or for concerts, shows and street fairs.

Money can be asked in order to take youngsters on field trips and two-week camping trips.

Local community agencies also can use the funds to work with hard-core gangs, youth guidance, supplementary, remedial and tutorial programs and for work orientation.

Each of the regional offices can allocate the money to the cities and counties it wants. Most sent letters to community action agencies this week and are waiting replies.

Order Township To Treat Sewage

GWINN—Since the Forsyth Township Board has been ordered to construct sewage treatment facilities, the Michigan Health Department will permit use of the township sewage system by the intermediate school now being built in Gwinn.

The township board, studying ways and means of undertaking a project which is expected to cost more than $250,000, received notice of the health department's decision in a letter from the Forsyth School District.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson

School Millage

Voters of Forsyth Township on Monday gave overwhelming approval to a school millage levy. The vote was 357 yes to 53 no. The proposal was to levy up to 5 mills for 10 years to finance school operations.

granted a summary judgment in Marquette County Circuit Court to the State of Michigan last month ordering Forsyth Township to begin construction of sewage treatment facilities by June 1, 1968. The facilities must be in operation not later than April 15, 1969, according to his order.

Forsyth must comply with the terms of a June 27, 1963, agreement (subject to modification), the order read, "by proceeding immediately and with reasonable diligence to finance, construct, operate and maintain the necessary sewerage treatment facilities stipulated in said agreement."

On and after April 15, 1969, the township "is hereby restrained and enjoined from discharging untreated sewage and wastes into the waters of this state," the judge ruled.

In the June 27, 1963, agreement, Forsyth promised to construct sewage treatment facilities to be completed not later than April 1, 1966, but it blamed "lack of financing" and "refusal of registered voters to approve a revenue bond issue" as the reasons for its failure to do so.

A bond issue to finance the project was rejected by voters after Forsyth had submitted plans and specifications for such facilities to the State Health Department.

The township also said it had applied for federal aid to initiate the program, adding that U. S. Government grants for sewage disposal facilities given the school district—which it said were in excess of $100,000—were deleted.

Pearson And Hanson Win School Election

Richard L. Hanson

A Delta County carpenter and an Escanaba businessman were elected to the Escanaba Area Public School board of education for terms of four years in Monday's election.

They are Richard L. Hanson of Wells, a carpenter, and Albin Pearson Jr., 2525 1st Ave. S., Escanaba, and general manager of the Pearson Boiler & Manufacturing Co.

Pearson polled 601 votes and Hanson 573 to win election to the Board of Education that sets public education policies in the Area School District composed of the City of Escanaba and the townships of Wells, Ford River and Cornell.

Six Candidates

Their terms will begin July 1 and they will succeed Dr. Vernon K. Johnson and Kenneth Buckland, who were not candidates for reelection.

Pearson is 47 years old, is a native of Escanaba, graduated from Escanaba High School, is married and has four children, of whom two still live at home.

Hanson is 36, a native of Minnesota, and came to this area four years ago. He is married and has two children, both students in the Escanaba Area school system.

There were seven candidates listed on the ballot for the school election that drew comparatively light voting. One of the candidates, Richard G. Bucksar of Escanaba, Rte. 1, had announced his withdrawal but too late to have his name removed from the ballot. Bucksar nevertheless received 15 votes.

The unofficial vote for the six remaining candidates for the 10 precincts in the Area School District:

Pearson—601, Hanson—573, Leo Alperovitz—503, William DeHaan—462, Urban Steinmetz—369, David Rivard—210. Pearson topped all other candidates in seven of the 10 precincts; while Hanson led the field of candidates in his home precinct of Wells, polling 80 votes there.

Alperovitz, business director at Bay de Noc Community College and third high in the vote contest, carried Precinct 2 in Escanaba with 231 votes; while William F. DeHaan topped all other candidates in Precinct 1 with 120 votes.

The Escanaba Area board of education will meet in regular session at 8 tonight. The canvassing of the vote is one order of business.

On July 11 the board will meet in organization session to elect officers for the ensuing year, and the new members will be seated at that time.

Kalkaska Grants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Economic Development Administration Monday approved a $481,600 grant for installation of a sewage system at Kalkaska, Mich., and the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration a $48,000 grant for waste treatment facilities at Kalkaska.

Wallace Controversy Is Legion Meeting Sparker

By The Associated Press

A legion of troubles has sprung from George Wallace's plans to speak to the American Legion in Escanaba.

The controversial former governor of Alabama, who says he might run for the 1968 presidency on a third party states' rights ticket, has accepted an invitation to address the Upper Peninsula Association of American Legion Posts (UPAL) convention, on Saturday.

But his appearance at the four-day convention has sparked controversy in Legion circles and has become an issue in the Escanaba City Council.

Remembering the Legion high spirits after World War I, a high ranking Legionnaire said, "We're still trying to live down the water balloons and electric canes. Now, here they go and invite this guy Wallace."

And Edward Dundon, an Iron

Mountain attorney and UPAL judge advocate, in an open letter urged the Escanaba post to cancel Wallace's appearance.

He argued that it would be a violation of the association's constitution which forbids involvement in political affairs.

But "Everybody wanted a national figure," said Don Guidon, chairman of the six-member convention committee. "So that's what we were shooting for."

"We tried Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., and California Gov. Ronald Reagan. And an astronaut and Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The invitation to Wallace was actually a last resort," he said.

In the face of mounting criticism to the invitation to Wallace, Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanierbergh cited the 16,000-population city's reputation as a "friendly convention place."

But across the Upper Peninsula, Legionnaires at Hancock adopted a resolution urging their members to attend the convention but to boycott the dinner at which Wallace is to speak.

Romney View

Gov. George Romney, who campaigned for the Presidency in a pre-announcement tour of Wisconsin last Saturday, was asked at a Green Bay press conference what he thought of the speaking engagement of George Wallace at the Upper Peninsula Legion convention in Escanaba next Saturday?

Wallace is the ex-governor of Alabama, where he established a reputation as one of America's most ardent and able segregationists and racists.

WFRV-TV, Channel 5, Green Bay on its 10 p. m. newscast Monday explained that Wallace would probably be a third party candidate for President in 1968, and asked Romney what he thought of that?

"I think he will hurt the Democrats more than the Republicans if he runs," said Romney. "He will affect the support for Democratic candidates and his principal strength will probably be in the South."

"In my tour of the South I found more persons supporting a two party political system and recognition that return to a one-party system would be a step backward."

When the WFRV announcer said that the Legion head who had arranged Wallace's Legion engagement was a Democrat Romney said: "You can draw your own conclusion."

Montana JCs Honor Barron

Richard Barron, a former resident of the Escanaba area, was recently elected state vice-president of the Montana Jaycees. Barron is a past president of the Jaycees in Sidney, Montana, his home city.

He has been an active member of the Jaycees on a local, district and state level since 1959, and is a past officer of the Escanaba Jaycees.

At the recent convention in Great Falls, Montana, Barron was the campaign co-chairman of the successful candidate for state president of the Montana Jaycees.

At the convention he was judged best chairman by the selection of his project "Project of the Year." His project was awarded first place in Americanism and Governmental Affairs category.

At the convention speakeroff he was awarded the first runner-up plaque.

Barron has been active in many other areas such as the Chamber of Commerce Community Development Committee, president of the Scholarship Foundation of Sidney, chairman of the Heart Fund, active in mental retardation, Little League baseball, Cub Scouts, etc.

Mrs. Barron, the former Mary Ann Bergman of Bark River, is a past president of the Sidney Jaycees.

The Barrons and their four children reside at 302 6th St. SE, Sidney, Montana, and expect to vacation in the Escanaba area in July, as they have done the past several years.

The new word, "megacorpse," means a million dead persons, such as could result from nuclear warfare.

Richard Anderson Awarded Degree At Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO — More than 235 seniors have received bachelor of arts degrees at Kalamazoo College's 131st commencement exercises held Sunday.

The largest graduating class in the College's history was addressed by H. Gardner Ackley, President Johnson's chief economic adviser, who received an honorary doctor of laws degree at the ceremony.

The graduates include:

Escanaba — Richard Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Anderson of 1701 5th Ave. S., majored in Spanish. For his senior independent project he wrote a thesis based on research in Peque, Colombia.

During his junior year under the College foreign study program, he studied at Bogota, Colombia. As a sophomore, he worked for the Peldar Glass Co., Zipaquira, Colombia, during his career-service quarter. He plans to join the Peace Corps after graduation.

For several months in 1783, Princeton University's Nassau Hall was the official meeting place of the American Congress.

Israel Helps Us

If the Israelis were frightened before the war they must be even more frightened now, because they have seen some of their fears fully realized. The United Nations was impotent in the crisis created by the Arab armed encirclement of Israel; the United States and Britain urged Israel to do nothing militarily but to rely on world diplomacy to help her; France dishonored its treaty obligations by withdrawal, and Russia encouraged the Arabs.

Egypt's Nasser had a big, quick, cheap victory. He had brought even Jordan into his Arab camp and it looked as though Saudi Arabia would go that way, although disinclined. He had closed the Gulf of Aqaba to Israel's shipping and he commanded large Arab forces on her borders. With belligerent Egypt stood Jordan, Syria, Morocco, Libya, the Sudan, Tunisia and other Arab nations.

There are 14 Arab nations and they have 110 million population. Israel, only 19 years old and already twice at war, has only 2.7 million people on a land area on the Eastern Mediterranean bounded by Egypt, Jordan and Syria that is less than half as large as the Upper Peninsula. (7,993 square miles to 16,538)

Israel sized things up for herself, ignored the counsel of the United States to keep the peace and struck hard at her enemies. She now goes to the peace table to discuss things from a position of strength. She has upset the Arab world's plans to subjugate her or destroy her for a half decade or more. She has spoiled Russia's plans to build its strength in the Middle East by arming the Arabs as allies.

The Israelis have been of enormous help to our interests in the Middle East and to those of the Free World there. They have done what had to be done. They have done it courageously and quickly.

Their action is the more admirable when their own internal troubles are understood. Their great drive for nationhood has faltered. Their blitz victory does not buy them any peace with the Arabs who dominate the Middle East. It probably deepens Arab hatred. The hope for enduring peace can come there only with a solution of the problems that underlie the hostility.

Before the Israelis punctured Nasser he wanted to bargain with them for return of 1.3 million Palestinian Arabs displaced in the creation of Israel, or for compensation of some sort. This refugee problem remains like a cancer, unaltered by the Israeli victory except that the Arabs are no longer in a position to settle it by arms.

There are 261,000 Arabs still living in Israel and Arabic is the nation's second language. There are six Arabs in Israel's parliament, but Israel's Arabs are not full citizens in the sense that its Jews are and understandably this country of only 2.7 million doesn't want an influx of a million Arab refugees as a final solution of the birth pains that have never relented.

The United Nations, which couldn't prevent the Arab-Israeli war is the agency looked to for a solution of the problem. The outlook there is not good. The U. N. has become a fish pond for selfish national interest. Russia will be fishing for ways to help the Arabs in order to bolster their friendship. We will be fishing for ways to subdue Arab belligerency as a threat to world peace.

The war did not involve any of the nuclear powers and that was a victory greater than Israel's, a victory for world peace, and the U. N. Council deserves some credit for this. At first the Russians didn't want a cease-fire because they thought that the Arabs, with their Russian arms, could win; and when they were losing we weren't too anxious for an immediate cease-fire because the Israeli medicine was working where our diplomacy had been a dud. But eventually there had to be a cease-fire and U. N. was there to demand it — again — and get it.

The war was not contained as much as it was won and our inability to create an effective world agency for peacekeeping — already demonstrated in Vietnam — is deeply disquieting. We are avoiding world war more because of the A-bomb than because of U. N.

Dwindling Papers

Increasing production costs have killed many daily newspapers in metropolitan areas in the past several years. The most recent casualty was the New York World Journal Tribune, which succumbed after only a few months of publication.

The WJT was itself the issue of a merger that had reduced the number of dailies published in New York. Its demise left the largest city in the United States with only three daily newspapers where there were a dozen papers when, ironically, New York City was much smaller. But costs in those days also were smaller and newspapers had an easier time surviving.

Another thing was lacking in those earlier days. There was no union harassment. This is no longer the case. Today a proliferation of unions makes demands on metropolitan dailies, frequently unrealistically and in competition with one another.

"The thing that has brought us to this day is the intransigence of the unions," Matt Meyer, WJT president, said in announcing that the fledgling publication was going out of business eight months after its birth. He said the WJT was losing money at the rate of $8,000,000 a year and could not possibly meet the pattern of a 21 per cent wage increase over three years which was set in the agreement with the New York Daily News, one of the three surviving Manhattan papers.

Although the contrast between the World Journal Tribune and the Iron River Reporter is stark, increased production costs also were cited as a factor contributing to the Iron County newspaper's decision to suspend its Monday publication.

One of the best of the non-daily newspapers in the Upper Peninsula, the Reporter was published twice weekly — on Mondays and Thursdays. But production cost hikes and other factors prompted the decision to restrict publication to Thursdays.

The Iron River Reporter was the last of the semi-weeklies in the Upper Peninsula. The Delta Reporter of Gladstone, which had followed a semi-weekly publication schedule in 1957-58, returned to weekly publication after two years of twice-a-week.

The Iron River paper began its career as a weekly publication in 1885, but changed to a daily format in 1921. The following year, however, it became a semi-weekly, continuing that publication schedule until now.

ARTICLE

I would like to commend you on your printing of the article "Chaplain Tells Greatness of G.I.'s" Since I have been in the service of my country, I have taken a much greater interest in affairs happening in and around our fair city.

Upon receiving this article, I almost immediately cut it out and began circulating it among F Co. in addition to among the young men in my barracks. Comments were very favorable and enthusiastic from both the young men and also many sergeants and a lieutenant who expressed opinion that this article was "very good".

Again, I would like to commend you for your work in highlighting one of the faults of the American soldier. Congratulations!

RUPPE IN JAPAN

YOKAHAMA—I am a member of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries (the parent body of the Coast Guard Subcommittee), which is reviewing the American Merchant Marine. Foreign competition is a major factor.

The Maritime Administration office in Japan is the watchdog for all shipping in which the United States has a financial interest or personnel involvement. The office oversees American shipping in Japan, Taiwan, the Philippines, and Korea.

With R. M. Stephenson, our maritime representative in the Far East, I visited the Ishi Kawa Jima shipyard which is the largest in the world. Last year these yards produced the world's biggest ship—the 210,000 ton "Idumitsu Maru".

Shipbuilding in Japan has advanced to the assembly line stage. It only takes two and one-half months from the laying of the keel to the launching. In another two and one-half months she ship is delivered. To construct a giant tanker in less than half a year is a fantastic accomplishment.

Japanese shipbuilding is impressive and eye-opening. Our shipbuilding industry in the United States is vital to our economy, and thousands of American jobs depend on it. We must not fall behind. It is essential that our shipbuilding technology be upgraded to insure our future ability to compete in the world market.

Results In Bombing

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A good proportion of those people who oppose the U. S. bombing of North Vietnam are fundamentally against any sort of bombing as somehow inflicting a worse death than is caused by other means in war.

Since this is an emotional feeling, it really cannot and probably should not be argued with.

It is quite something else, however, to move from expressions of abhorrence over bombing to unsupportable arguments with regard to what it is doing or has done in past wars and this one.

Most recently, some critics of the present bombing, including a few senators, have contended that what happened to the British people in World War II proves that bombing "only stiffens morale" and can have little telling effect in war.

The story of that British experience would surprise some of these critics.

Over-all, counting every phase of the air battles and the bombing over Britain, this celebrated assault covered the period from July, 1940, to May 1941.

Those Americans old enough to have lived through the period may recall that millions of ordinary Britons in London, Liverpool, Coventry, Bristol, Plymouth and other cities were indeed doughty and courageous under the relentless rain of high explosives and incendiaries delivered by Nazi bombers.

At the height of the assault, Germany raided London for 57 successive nights. An average of 200 bombers a night droned over the city.

But the glow of admiration the free world placed around that horrifying chapter has tended to obscure some important facts.

blitzed and battered and burned, suffered 21,000 dead.

No one is ever likely to cheer those totals as insignificant. Yet the fact is that they are small compared to what happened to German and Japanese cities later in World War II.

The British saturation raid on Dresden killed an estimated 135,000 Germans in less than two days. One giant U. S. B-29 fire raid over Tokyo killed 97,000 Japanese in a single night—almost five times the number of Londoners lost in a period of several months.

Allied bombers gutted some 6,000 acres of Berlin, 10 times as big an area as was ever bombed out in London. An even larger part of Hamburg was destroyed.

The truth is, as author Telford Taylor observes in his new book, "The Breaking Wave," that the German air force of that time was a vastly overrated machine of war. Led by the confused Hermann Goering and equipped with planes of dubious quality, it constantly shifted objectives and never finished anything.

The later perspectives on that war raise grave question as to how Britain would have borne up had the Nazi attacks been more severe and more efficient. Sir Winston Churchill himself, in his history of World War II, says this:

"It would be unwise to suppose that if the attack had been 10 or 20 times as severe—or perhaps even two or three times as severe—the healthy reactions I have described (the raids stimulating action, comradeship, clarity of view) would have followed."

Elsewhere in those writings Churchill adds:

"It is difficult to compare the ordeal of the Londoners... with that of the Germans in the last three years of the war. In this later phase the bombs were much more powerful and the raids far more intense."

Sgt. Phil Bruce of the Escanaba Police Department was the winner of the third place trophy in the Class B .38 pistol shooting event of the annual Fraternal Order of Police Officers. Sgt. Bruce was the only local representative.

Winners in the mixed four-some golf tournament play at the Escanaba golf club were Mrs. C. J. Driscoll and William Kennedy and Mrs. P. A. Wohlen and Dr. K. F. Harrington.

50 Years Ago

Yesterday, June 12, was the warmest day in Escanaba so far this year, with the mercury in the official thermometer at the weather station mounting well above the 80 degree mark.

Graduation exercises for the eighth grade students of the public schools of the city were held in the high school auditorium. Certificates of graduation were given to 156 pupils. Members of all of the classes presented the play, "The Black Knight."

There are any number of ways to bid a slam. They all have one thing in common. At some stage of the bidding one partner has to go past game.

Scientific bidders hate to go beyond game unless they are practically sure that the slam will be bid. No one likes to go down one trick at six but when you do you can usually justify the loss by reasoning that the slam contract was a good one and went down because of unfortunate breaks.

When the loss is at a contract in the never-never land of between game and slam there is no consolation. You have simply thrown away a game. Thus the true scientist works to develop ways of inviting a slam below game and eventually passing the buck to his partner. Then if the partner goes past game and there is a loss the scientist sits in his ivory tower and says, "See what my partner did." If the partner stops at game and the slam is on the scientist says, "I tried to get to a slam. My partner dropped the ball."

North was one of these scientists. Some players would have blasted all the way to a slam with the North cards. Most others would have bid five spades when this North bid four.

This North was content to show that he was very much interested in a slam by detouring to three diamonds before going to four spades.

We aren't going to quarrel with success. South had played with North before and decided that his minimum hand had increased in value. South did bid love hearts to show first round heart control.

This was enough for North. His partner had gone past game. North jumped to the slam. There wasn't much to the play. South drew trumps, lost the club finesse and claimed his contract.

♥♦♣ CARD Sense ♦♣♥

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠
Pass 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ ?
You, South, hold:
♠ A Q 10 5 4 ♥ K 6 2 ♦ A Q 8 7
What do you do now?

A—You can be very scientific and bid four clubs but we favor the slam here bid of four no-trump. You will go to six clubs if partner shows one ace.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid four no-trump and partner bids five hearts to show two aces. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

Toasted slices of pound cake make a good base for "shortcake." Just pile sweetened strawberries on the pound cake and top with whipped cream. You can keep a pound cake on hand in the freezer for such use.

Ann Landers

Ann Still Says Girl Bears Responsibility

Dear Ann Landers: You have often stated that the girl is responsible for whatever happens to her on a date. I am sure you know what you are talking about most of the time, but there are exceptions to every rule. Please print my letter as an example of an exception.

Sixteen years ago I was a lusty young swinger. (In those days we called them "hot shots.") I had a yen for a girl who was just barely 15, three years my junior. She was an innocent, fresh-faced, luscious country bumpkin — and stacked. I asked her for a date and she was thrilled. After the movie we parked on a lonely road. I gave her a ridiculous line about how I had fallen for her months before and had been dreaming of her ever since. In almost no time at all I had my way. I realized promptly that it was her first sex experience and she didn't know what in the world it was all about.

Her only question when I saw her to the door was, "Does this mean we are going steady?" I replied, "No, it doesn't." She broke down and wept and slammed the door with me on the outside. I never asked her for a date after that because I was too guilt-ridden. When we met in the halls at school I couldn't even look at her. Dozens of times I wanted to go to her and say, "I'm sorry," but I couldn't bring myself to do it.

Sixteen years have passed and I still can't erase the memory of that girl's frightened, tear-stained face. I am writing in the hope that this letter will prove that it isn't always the girl who decides. Sometimes a smooth-talking, older fellow can take advantage of an innocent young thing. — ONE WHO DID

Dear One Who Did: Thank you for your letter, but my statement still stands. You didn't chloroform the girl. She should have had the sense to say no. I feel sorry for the poor thing but she was stupid and weak and she paid a big price.

Dear Ann Landers: My brother and his wife have two adorable daughters, five and seven years of age. I love my little nieces as if they were my own children. They love me, too. Last year my brother and his wife were divorced. He is very resentful and has been trying to get even with his wife by not paying her the support money she desperately needs. Because of this she will not let me see my nieces. Her reasoning is that if I get lonesome enough I will give her the support money myself or put pressure on my brother so he will come through with it.

I have told my sister-in-law this is unfair. She says she has to try everything she can think of because she needs the money to live on and "anything goes." Your opinion is wanted. — ALMA

Dear Alma: The poor woman's thinking is frightfully kinky. If she wants to have her ex-husband put in jail for failing to support his children she can do it. But she should not penalize you. I hope she will see this and reconsider. Not only is your sister-in-law being unfair to you, but to her children as well.

Confidential to What Do I Say Now?: How about "Good-bye"? This woman is taking you for all you're worth and so far you've been worth about 20 grand, sucker.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Sea Otter Raids Destroy Abalone

MORRO BAY, Calif. (AP) — The once-rare sea otter has made a rarity of the once-plentiful abalone in the coastal waters of San Luis Obispo County.

Divers at Morro Bay report the otters—now protected from hunters by law—have devoured most of the red abalone—a delicious seafood—off the Monterey County coast, and are heading south.

The State Department of Fish and Game, though, has a plan. They're aiming at herding the otters out of the bay, if they can find a way to herd otters.

Gladstone To Up Water Bills For Filtration

Gladstone residents can expect a 75 per cent hike in their water bills, deemed necessary by the City Commission to defray the cost of a filtration plant, but city commissioners deferred definite action Monday evening in order to have Williams & Works engineers approved meter rates at their next meeting June 26, should residents desire to use this method of financing.

City Manager H. J. Henriksen said the city would supply meters but residents would be responsible for plumbing to the meters in the event they chose a metered rate rather than the 75 per cent quarterly base charge.

Commissioner Frank Stupak said local water rates were considerably below other area rates and for this reason Gladstone was ineligible for a federal grant to build a new filtration plant. He said numerous complaints on the condition of the water had been received by all the commissioners and that the construction of a new filtration plant was the only solution.

Adopt Budget
A 1967-68 budget was adopted, as was an ordinance for minimum police officer employment standards. One police officer will receive training this month under this program. The city will pay the cost of training since this ordinance has not been in effect for the required time.

No objections were offered the public hearing on black-topping Delta Ave. and Commissioner Stupak proposed that new curbing on Delta Ave. be installed by a contractor rather than by city labor. He said that about 90 per cent of the curbing in the business area needs to be replaced and that the project should be extended to the 200 block of Delta Ave., to 14th St.

Seeks Bids
Commissioner George Young said the original plan of black-topping Delta Ave. from 7th to 14th St. should be completed first, but the commission voted 4 to 1 to advertise for alternate bids for the work; one from 6th to 14th and one from 2nd St. and 6th. A public hearing on this project will be held June 26.

In other business the commission voted to purchase parts for the coal conveyor at the light plant at a cost of $994.47 and parts for the tractor loader for $882. City electric rates will remain the same.

H. J. Goodyer again asked to purchase a pie-shaped piece of property on Minnesota Ave. adjoining the disposal plant. This would enable him to set his proposed home farther back on the lot. Bids on this property will be open on June 26 and the commission will reserve the right to consider sale of the property if bids are not acceptable.

Propose Gas Station
A representative of Murphy Oil Co. and Dick Juetten, realtor, asked permission to break curbing for a proposed gas station on Delta Ave. at 9 St. Juetten said four pieces of property, including the Leo Rouman property, a tavern, restaurant, and adjoining vacant lot would be used. He said the property would be landscaped with planters to enhance the appearance.

He cited the advantage to the city's tax base. The commission will refer the matter to the planning commission and Juetten was invited to meet with them at the Planning Commission's next meeting, June 20.

An operator at the water plant will attend a water pollution meeting at Boyne Falls June 19-21.

Protests Tree Trimming
Miss Eline Swenson, 811 Dakota Ave., complained to the Commission about the cutting of 6 limbs from a tree on her property without her consent, and the moving of power lines. Miss Swenson said lines were placed through a pine tree, which she said endangers her life and property. The city manager said he was not aware of the action and will take the matter up with Bill LaFond, city electrician.

Roderick Johnson asked permission to lease two lots on the bluff to be used to junk cars. Henriksen will meet with him to establish the site, and Johnson was told that should this become a reality all junk cars must be removed. The commission feels there is a need for such a business since the disposal of old cars is becoming a problem.

Weed Control
The commission adopted a revised ordinance to control weed growth on vacant city lots at least three times every summer and whenever a fire hazard exists. The old ordinance controls only lots in platted areas. A public hearing will be held June 26.

After meeting with members of the Sault Ste. Marie Housing Commission and inspecting their low cost housing for elderly residents, the commission voted a $500 fund for expenses on this project. Henriksen said $7,500 in federal funds for preliminary planning had already been received and that a revised building code must be adopted before Sept. 1 in order to qualify for housing aid.

The commission authorized the city manager to advertise for bids to purchase two dump trucks to replace worn out equipment.

Dan Finlan, representing the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce, asked the city commission to build a farmers market in the former Snyder's IGA parking lot. This request was granted and the market will probably be open on Thursdays in the summer months.

Court Voids Denial Of Interracial Marriages

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York law that permitted electronic "bugging" and a Virginia ban on racially mixed marriages were swept off the books by the Supreme Court at a highly charged windup session.

Closing down Monday until October, the court also bid farewell to retiring Justice Tom C. Clark, broadened press freedom and gave suspects in police line-ups the right to a lawyer's help.

Clark, stepping down after 18 years on the bench, announced the 5-4 decision that the New York eavesdropping law "is without adequate judicial supervision or protective procedures."

His opinion was raked by Justice Byron R. White, one of the dissenters, as not in tune "with facts of the real world" and a need for modern tools to combat crime.

Clark's ruling left in doubt the fate of eavesdropping laws in five other states—Georgia, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nevada and Oregon. There, as in New York, police can eavesdrop when given a judge's permission.

Opinion Unanimous
Chief Justice Earl Warren's unanimous decision in the Virginia antimiscegenation case left no such doubt. It sounded the death knell for laws any-

Report School Vote Results

School districts held elections on Monday to choose members of the Boards of Education. The results, according to unofficial returns:

Manistique—Jeanne Larson, 450 votes, and Ralph Gilliam, 364 votes were elected. Mrs. Larson is an incumbent. She and Gilliam are engaged in business in the Manistique area.

There were four other candidates: U. S. A. Heggblom—270 votes; Robert Knop—329 votes; Ronald Morton—274; Don Wood—200.

Gladstone—Dr. Carl Olson and Mrs. L. N. Empson, incumbents were unopposed for reelection. Each received 35 votes. There were two write-in votes for Dr. Otto Hult.

Rock—John Larson and Mrs. Albert Weldum were reelected without opposition. Thirty-one votes were cast.

Turin Township (Marquette County) voted to annex to the Rock Public School District. There were only 2 dissenting votes.

Powers - Spalding — Elected were Robert Smith with 197 and Norman Kell (incumbent) with 183 votes. Candidates Douglas Geline received 11 and Napoleon LaBonte 99 votes.

Wesley Carlsons To Speak At Covenant Church

Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Carlson, missionaries from South Africa under TEAM will present a program at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Evangelical Covenant Church of Escanaba. The program is under the direction of the Evangelical Covenant Church Women.

Mrs. Carlson, dressed in native costume, will be the speaker and Rev. Carlson will have a display of various African articles. Mrs. Emer Peterson will be the soloist for the evening.

Hostesses for the program are Helen Wickstrom and Leona Anderson. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited to attend.

where in the country that make racial intermarriage a crime. "Under our Constitution," Warren declared, "the freedom to marry, or not to marry, a person of another race resides with the individual and cannot be infringed by the state."

At one time or another 41 states had such laws. The number has dwindled to 16: Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

"The freedom to marry has long been recognized as one of the vital personal rights essential to the orderly pursuit of happiness by free men," Warren wrote.

Clark Retires

Clark is ending his court career to avoid any suggestion of conflict of interest because his son, Ramsey, is U.S. attorney general—the federal government's chief law officer.

His successor will be named by President Johnson before the court returns in the fall.

The 67-year-old justice took a modest stance, telling the packed courtroom: "I leave not with sadness but happiness—knowing that someone will fit my shoes, possibly to overflowing."

The nation's press scored an important advance as all nine justices voted to throw out a $500,000 libel judgment former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker had won against The Associated Press.

Five, a majority, agreed that libel standards are the same for public figures as they are for public officials.

Under a 1964 court ruling a public official cannot recover damages for a libelous statement relating to his official duties unless he can prove actual malice. This means he has to prove the statement was made with knowledge that it was false or with reckless disregard of whether it was true or false.

Public Interested

Warren, White and Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr. lined up in the Walker case to extend this ruling to public figures who become in-

Ferency Returning To Private Law Practice

LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency has decided to begin phasing out his party activities and return to private law practice.

The Associated Press learned today that Ferency, 45, now serving his third two-year term, is about to announce that he will join the Flint law firm of Weiss and Damm and hold regular office hours a couple of mornings a week starting next month.

Informed sources said he also plans to move his family from the Lansing area as soon as details can be worked out. They will either settle down in Flint or move into their 160-acre summer home property in Lapeer County.

Ferency would neither confirm nor deny the report.

"Zoltan is not resigning or giving up his title as party chairman," said a source close to Ferency.

Final Term

"But he apparently has decided that he should pick up the threads of his private life now, rather than trying to make an abrupt change from his party post to private law practice when his term expires next year."

Ferency was re-elected handily at the party's state convention in Grand Rapids last February after he first announced he would not run for a third term, then yielded to a draft movement started at the county and district levels. This, he said at the time "is my absolutely final term."

Speculation that Ferency is revived by his move into the District, which encompasses Lapeer and Genesee Counties.

"But it ain't necessarily so," said an intimate of Ferency.

Considers Family

"As I understand it, Zoltan won't give any consideration to becoming a candidate for any public office until his roots are firmly planted and his feet are on the ground in establishing a sound financial foundation for his family."

Zoltan Ferency

Ferency's decision to phase out his party activities could be first step in making the state chairmanship a part-time job.

Sault Voters Reject Schools

By The Associated Press
School bond and millage proposals got a mixed reaction from voters in scattered elections throughout Michigan Monday, some going down to defeat but many being approved.

Sault Ste. Marie voters rejected a $6-million bond issue for building new schools, for example, but they approved a two-mill operating increase.

In Ann Arbor, voters rejected for a second time a proposed millage increase that would have provided higher salaries for teachers. When the matter was first voted down last month, teachers said they would not return to work next fall without pay increases.

as it was under John J. "Joe" Collins and Neil Staebler, now Democratic national committeeman.

The present fulltime post pays $22,500 a year.

It was learned that Ferency, who spends well over 40 hours a week on the job, probably would be willing to carry on his duties on a part-time basis. Such an arrangement would permit him to spend more time at his law practice and with his family.

Lansing Law Office

In addition to adding his name to the door at the Flint law firm, Ferency will continue to maintain his association with a Lansing legal office he joined last year. His political activities have forced him to remain relatively inactive in the Lansing firm so far.

Shortly after he started his gradual return to law practice, the Democratic leader decided to take on Republican Gov. George Romney in the 1968 gubernatorial race. He was smothered under a 500,000-vote Romney margin.

Ferency served as executive secretary to Gov. John Swainson, who lost to Romney in 1962, and then became state chairman the following year in a bitter convention battle with the forces of Staebler and former Gov. G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams.

Some of the wounds have now or healed.

'Get Out Of The Way'

Mother's Story Of Shooting Is Heard By Jury

"Dad, get out of the way or I'll shoot you, too," Mrs. Rose Boursaw, mother of the victim in a shooting that brought Kenneth P. Seymour, 28, of Nahma to trial in Circuit Court quoted Seymour as saying before her son was wounded.

Mrs. Boursaw was a witness in the jury trial of Seymour who is charged with two counts of felonious assault. Judge Bernard H. Davidson is presiding at the trial being held in the Delta County Court House.

The shooting is alleged to have occurred in the Kenneth Seymour home at Nahma the night of April 3.

Clifford J. Boursaw, 39, was wounded by gunshot from a 12 gauge shotgun fired at close range.

Troopers Testify

Seymour pleaded innocent to the charge on June 6 by reason of self-defense and trial by jury began Monday morning.

Composing the jury are Lanny Johnston, Bernice Berish, Isadore J. Stein and Russell Wining of Escanaba; John Sepic, George Minnie, Joseph Bal and Melvin K. Bloomquist of Gladstone; Izetta Johnson, Bark River; James Turnell, Brantton; Gilver VanDrese, Corneli; and Marvin Seppanen, Maple Ridge.

First witness Monday were Trooper Hugh Fish of the State Police post, Manistique, and Trooper Harry Haranda, formerly of Manistique, now at the State Police post at Bay City.

They described the incidents of the night in which Boursaw was wounded, including their response to a complaint and of leaving the Seymour place in pursuit of a car. While they were after the fleeing car, the shooting occurred at the Seymour home.

Dragged By Car

The officers also testified they had been called to Nahma in the past because of complaints against Boursaw, who they said "likes to drink, and once smashed all of the furniture in the house."

Both Boursaw and Seymour had been drinking the night of the shooting, but at different places, the officers testified.

Mrs. Boursaw's testimony described how she had been taken to the Seymour place, there saw her son in the yard, and that he had been injured in the legs when he was "dragged by a car."

She and another person assisted him into the Seymour house. She said he was unable to walk unassisted. Inside the house she saw Kenneth Seymour with a shotgun.

Hit By Shot

"Kenny, don't do that," Alec Seymour, Kenneth's father said, according to Mrs. Boursaw's testimony.

"Dad, get out of my way or I'll shoot you, too," she quoted Kenneth Seymour as saying. Kenneth then pushed his father out of the way. The gun then discharged and Boursaw cried out that he had been hit in the groin. Mrs. Boursaw assisted her son outside and to the Boursaw home, and from there he was taken to the hospital at Manistique.

The trial is continuing today with additional witnesses being called. One of the witnesses was Alec Seymour, the defendant's father.

Altogether there were about 10 witnesses expected to be called by the prosecution and the defense, with the expectation the case will go to the jury today.

State Should Pay Prisoner Appeals Cost Says Kelley

LANSING (AP)—If an indigent inmate of a state penal institution is convicted of a crime and appeals, the state should pay the costs of his attorney and trial transcript, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said Monday.

But in other cases of criminal appeals by poor defendants, Kelley said, the county should foot the bill.

"Traditionally the county has the basic unit in the administration of criminal justice," Kelley said. "It is difficult to find a basis for the contention that the state must now reimburse the county for appellate expenses."

The Michigan Constitution gives anyone convicted in a criminal proceeding the right to

Leaving Oct. 31 After 11 Years; Seek Successor

might succeed Harden as university president.

Seek Successor

"We are hoping we can find a successor by Oct. 31," Johnson said. "If not, we will have to have an interim president."

Johnson said Harden initiated action more than a year ago to leave the university. "Since that time," he said "members of the board have worked with him in order to set a termination date that would assure the continued advancement of Northern at the same speed and high level it has followed during the 11 years of Dr. Harden's tenure as president."

Last year the largest dinner gathering ever held in Marquette turned out to honor Dr. Harden for his achievements during his 10 years as president of the university. Gov. George Romney was the dinner speaker.

Lauds Board

"The 11 years I have been in Marquette as president of Northern have been among the happiest and most rewarding that I have ever known," Harden said in his statement today. "It is with sincere regret that I leave the distinguished group of Michigan citizens who have served as the board of control for Northern. No president has been privileged to serve a finer board than I have."

Dr. Harden went to Northern in 1956 when the university was a college with an enrollment of 888 students and 48 faculty members and 11 buildings on 80 acres. Today Northern has an enrollment of 7,000, a faculty of 400 among its 1,000 employees, 37 buildings and a campus of 207 acres, plus 120 acres in the Longyear Forest.

To State In 1945

He is a native of Montezuma, Iowa, a graduate of State College of Iowa with a master's degree from the State University of Iowa and a doctor's degree from Wayne State University. He began his teaching career in Iowa, served as principal of high schools in Iowa and Illinois and came to Michigan in 1945 as principal of Battle Creek High School. In 1946 he joined Michigan State University as an associate professor in the Institute of Counseling, Testing and Guidance.

During his 9 years at MSU he was appointed director of continuing education and then dean of continuing education. He was in the forging industry for a year before going to Northern.

Highlights of his career at Northern include:

1. Establishing in 1956 of a Public Services Division whose programs have ranged from operating the only Women's Job Corps Center on an American campus, to preparing volunteers for the VISTA program.

2. Inauguration of a graduate program in 1960.

3. Establishment in 1962 of an Area Training Center — the first of its kind in Michigan — to help workers develop new skills.

4. Activation of FM radio and closed circuit television systems in 1963.

5. Achievement of university status in 1963.

6. Recognition of Northern as a constitutional entity with its own board of control under the new Michigan Constitution of 1963.

7. Development of the art and the Arts Recognition Year of 1963-64 which brought an unprecedented flow of artists, lecturers and outstanding educators to the campus and the U.P.

8. Activation in 1964 of an U.P. television network to extend the educational and cultural resources of the university to schools and homes across the Upper Peninsula. The microwave cable system was the first of its kind in the nation.

Marvin Marshall

Marshall Gets New Position

Marvin Marshall, a staff forester on the Hiawatha National Forest, is being promoted and transferred to the Monongahela National Forest, Elkins, West Virginia.

Marshall has served here as a staff specialist in land purchase and exchange, right-of-way procurement, land uses, minerals management, and soil and watershed management during the last eight years.

He received a U.S. Department of Agriculture certificate of merit for superior performance as acting forest supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest from Jan. 8 to July 23, 1962.

Marshall will serve as a specialist on the Monongahela National Forest in the same activities which he has supervised on the Hiawatha National Forest. The addition of the Spruce Knob Seneca National Recreation Area to the Monongahela National Forest, the construction of the Highland Scenic Highway, and the construction of several reservoirs are creating a great impact on the land adjustment activities of the Forest Service in West Virginia.

Marvin Marshall was elected to the Escanaba Area School Board a year ago. He has also been active in Boy Scout and other community activities. The Marshalls have been members of St. Joseph's Church. Mrs. Marshall has been active in the League of Women Voters in Escanaba and was recently elected to the St. Joseph's School Board of Education.

Marvin, his wife RoseMary, and children, Catherine, John, Sarah, and Paul will leave for Elkins during the first week of July. Sandra is employed at the Fair Store and will remain in Escanaba. Arthur, an Air Force lieutenant, is stationed at Sacramento, Calif.

Marshall, a native of Missouri, has been in the Forest Service for 29 years. The Marshalls have lived at 1415 1st Ave. S.

Rail Strike Curb Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee has cleared a bill to prevent a threat of nationwide rail strike.

The bill, passed 18 to 14 Monday, would prohibit a union from striking for more than 30 days without a mediation attempt. A five-member board would impose a temporary settlement after 30 days. Unions are affected.

Davey To Issue Clay License

DETROIT (AP) — Despite several protests, the Michigan Boxing Commissioner says he will issue a license for dethroned heavyweight champion Cassius Clay to fight two three-round exhibition bouts in Detroit's Cobo Hall Thursday.

"I've had a couple of phone calls, and some letters are floating in," said Commissioner Chuck Davey Monday. "But the opposition doesn't appear heavy, and no state officials have complained."

Clay, who prefers to be called by his Black Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, is to fight three rounds each against Alvin Lewis of Detroit and Orville Qualls of Chicago, just four days before he is to appear in federal court on induction defiance charges.

He was stripped of his title when he refused to be inducted into the Army last month on the grounds he is a Black Muslim minister.

Bertrand Named Deputy Sheriff

The employment of one deputy sheriff and announcement that he seeks additional help (a man-wife team) in the Delta County sheriff's department was reported today by the county's newly appointed Sheriff Harold Finman.

The man and wife combination would meet the needs for an additional deputy and for someone to cook for the prisoners in the county jail, Sheriff Finman said.

The new deputy is Edward "Ed" Bertrand, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bertrand Sr. of 1602 1st Ave. S., Escanaba. He was born in Wakefield in 1943 and came to Escanaba with his parents in 1956.

He attended St. Patrick's elementary school, graduated from Holy Name High School in 1961, and later entered military service. He was with the 7th Special Forces (Green Beret) at Fort Bragg, N. C., and received advanced training there and in 1964 attended the U. S. Navy underwater school at Key West. He was advanced to the rating of E5 and taught special forces operation, including underwater demolition techniques.

Returning to Escanaba he enrolled in Bay de Noc Community College and is continuing his studies toward a degree while he will serve as deputy sheriff. He is unmarried.

Sheriff Finman said that persons to be hired are needed to fill vacancies in the department.

Finman, former Escanaba police chief, was appointed Delta County sheriff to fill a vacancy following the resignation of Cully Johnson.

makes sh-sherbet sh-shiver

Brrr. Fresca makes sherbet shiver. Gives it a bolder, livelier taste. Just plunk your favorite flavor in for an icy dip, and it becomes an instant iceberg. Shivering Sherbet. It's a float you can really get carried away on. So pick up lots of sherbet, and more than one carton of Fresca. Only the frosty taste of Fresca could make a drink this refreshing. And of course, Fresca is sugar-free.

The frosty taste of Fresca. It's a blizzard!

Card of Thanks

Maskart

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my friends for their kindness shown me during my stay at St. Francis Hospital. I especially wish to thank Dr. Ryde, the nurses, sisters and all the hospital staff; the gang at Dubord's; the day-hall girls from the Lincoln House; the cribbage team from Larry's for their lovely flowers and all who sent cards and letters. Thanks again.

In Memoriam

Hebert

In loving memory of our wife, mother, and grandmother, Lillie Hebert who passed away one year ago today, June 15th, 1966.

Do not ask me if I miss her, for there's such a vacant place.

O! I think I hear her footsteps. Or I see her smiling face. For she left me broken hearted.

Friends may think the wound is healed. But they so little know the sorrow. That is in my heart concealed.

Sadly Missed by the Family of Lillie Hebert

Wolf Only State Animal Now Facing Extinction

BY LEE SMITS

Seventy-eight species of mammals, birds, reptiles and fish are listed as "endangered-rare - in danger of extinction." The list was compiled by a committee organized by the Federal Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Some of the endangered species are well known - alligator, whooping crane, timber wolf. Some are not so well known - Indiana bat, Laysan duck, Inyo County toad.

None of the 78 species is in jeopardy because of hunting.

The timber wolf is the only Michigan species listed. Michigan has a few timber wolves left on the Upper Peninsula mainland, and there may be wolves crossing into the eastern end of the U. P. over the ice from Ontario, according to Lloyd G. Schemenaur, Conservation Department biologist at Newberry.

Meanwhile in the Royale National Park in the northwest part of Lake Superior, there are between 20 and 25 wolves, keeping the island moose herd in balance with its food supply.

For some mysterious reason the wolves have not increased in numbers since they came to the island, from Canada or Minnesota, in the winter of 1948.

The cougar - panther or puma - once ranged in southern Michigan. A pioneer grandmother thrilled us with her stories of screaming panthers and howling wolves in Branch County, more than a century ago. In spite of occasional tales of monstrous cats prowling Upper Peninsula wilds, it is very doubtful that there has been a panther in Michigan within living memory.

An inventory of Michigan's wildlife species shows that our state has been highly fortunate. We have lost two outstanding species - passenger pigeon and grayling. When French explorers reached this region they found buffalo on the prairie areas of southwestern Michigan. Buffalo soon met their doom.

We have gained such valuable species as ring-neck pheasant, rainbow and brown trout and now the coho salmon. Two prominent native species are being successfully restored - elk and wild turkey. Two rare fur-bearers - fisher and marten - have been introduced after being exterminated. Two species have introduced themselves, both from the west - the coyote and sharp-tail grouse.

The giant Canada goose, once believed to be extinct, has mysteriously returned. The Seney Federal Wildlife Refuge in the Upper Peninsula is an important breeding ground for this magnificent bird. Geese, trapped and banded on the Refuge, weigh up to 14 pounds in their first year.

Israel Win May End Yemen War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One byproduct of Israel's blitz victory over the Egyptians may be an end to the civil war in Yemen—either through a quick and bloody Royalist victory or by a peace agreement.

The destruction of much of Egypt's air force and army raises the question of whether President Gamal Abdel Nasser, with his economy teetering on the edge of ruin, can afford the men, money and material which are the mainstay of the Yemeni Republican regime. The fighting in Yemen, largely forgotten in the crisis with Israel, began in 1962 when rebel army officers threw Imam Mohammed el Badr off his 11-century-old throne and set up a republic in the Red Sea kingdom in the southwest corner of Arabia.

The Imam rallied loyal tribesmen for war and Nasser sent more than 70,000 troops to shore up the rebel regime led by bearded, sullen Col. Abdullah al-Sallal.

Alarmed by the presence of the Egyptian Army on its border, Saudi Arabia threw its support behind the Royalists.

Princely commanders of the Royalist forces claim the death toll in Yemen goes into the hundreds of thousands. They say some 30,000 Egyptian soldiers have been killed or wounded in the fighting.

Wayne Centennial

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has announced that Detroit will honor the centennial of Wayne State University with a banquet June 13, 1968. The banquet date marks the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Detroit Medical College, first of the colleges which later were incorporated into Wayne State.

Mine Fall Fatal

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An employee fell 70 feet to his death Wednesday in a mine shaft of the Bestwell Gypsum Division of Georgia-Pacific Corp. Timothy O'Neil, 20, of Comstock Park, died of a head injury. Medical Examiner Dr. G. F. Barofsky said. Company officials said O'Neil was working alone.

Piggins Heads GOP Drive For Children's Camp

LANSING (AP) — Wayne County Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins has been named to head a Republican-sponsored campaign to finance a summer camp program for 150 underprivileged Detroit children.

The program, part of the Republicans' "Project Grass Roots," seeks to raise $5,250 to send the children to Tau Beta Camp at Columbiaville, near Lapeer.

Piggins' selection was announced by the project co-chairmen, Lt. Gov. William Milliken and GOP State Vice Chairman Earl Kennedy.

How are other native wildlife species faring in Michigan? It is probable that white-tail deer are more abundant than they were a century ago. Solid forest growth is not deer habitat. Logging, followed by second-growth, was a boon for deer. The big problem now is to keep the herd in balance with its food supply. Michigan's most spectacular big-game species, black bear, is thriving as never before in the memory of the oldest old-timers.

The problem with small-game is basically the preservation of suitable farmland habitat — and availability of farmlands open to the hunting public.

Because of the destruction of northern breeding grounds we will never again see the enormous flights of wildfowl that were gunned, legally, for seven months a year and marketed by the thousands. However, there is good reason to hope that there will continue to be duck hunting in Michigan and that it will improve as conservation measures are expanded.

Viet Buddhists Now Weak Force

By BARRY KRAMER

HUE, South Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnam's militant Buddhists, who once could put tens of thousands of demonstrators into the streets, are now a weak, divided force without a cause.

The opinion of Vietnamese and Americans who have been watching the Buddhists is that the militant segment never recovered from the loss of face last year when an all-out effort failed to topple the regime of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. They have become even more fragmented since then.

The leader of the militants, Tri Quang, is now virtually powerless.

His attempts to stir up trouble during Buddha's birthday celebration in May, which included a parade and the immolation of a Buddhist school teacher, drew scant attention.

For the first time since 1963, when the Buddhists launched the first "struggle movement" that led to the overthrow of the Ngo Dinh Diem regime, Hue University is finishing an uninterrupted school year.

Hue, the ancient capital of imperial Vietnam, remains the center of militant Buddhism, with other pockets in Saigon and Da Nang.

The robed bonzes who are followers of Tri Quang are shadowed by government police and are not allowed to travel between the major Buddhist centers. Some have been stopped at airports and sent back to the city from which they came.

Tri Quang Banished

Tri Quang, a native of Hue, has been at the An Quang pagoda in Saigon for almost a year and has been forbidden by the government to return to Hue.

There are also divisions among the leadership of the militants.

Tri Quang and the leader of the "moderate" Buddhists, Tam Chau, joined in the opposition to Ky last year but are now at each other's throat. Tam Chau calls Tri Quang "Communist-inclined," and Tri Quang accuses the Tam Chau Buddhists of "treason and open collusion with U.S. dollars."

Tri Quang's group remains vehemently antigovernment. Tam Chau appears to cooperate openly with the Ky government. Ky and other government officials appear at Buddhist ceremonies, and the government permitted Tam Chau to organize a parade of 10,000 persons through Saigon on Buddha's birthday.

Three Main Groups

It is hard to number South Vietnam's Buddhists, who are the largest religious group in the country, but generally they can be divided into three main groups.

The militants, from central Vietnam—northern South Vietnam—are the best organized and strongest and are concentrated in Hue, Da Nang, Nha Trang, Quang Tri and other northern cities as well as in Saigon.

The Tam Chau group, centered around Saigon, has strong influence in the south and in the Vietnamese army. Many are refugees from North Vietnam.

The most numerous southern-born Buddhists have a poorly organized leadership and are not a cohesive force.

Russia Reported Ready To Halt A-Bomb Spread

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Russia has been reported ready to join the United States in moves for speedier international action to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk advised fellow foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization that the Russians have agreed in recent days to the pre-negotiation of a jointly-drafted but incomplete treaty of nonproliferation to the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

The American-Soviet draft that is being prepared to go before the 17-nation Geneva conference would contain a blank Article 3, dealing with the sort of controls and safeguards needed to insure that signatory countries do not cheat.

The focus in today's debate was on the Middle East and France's foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, declared French opposition to imposition of any United Nations settlement in the area.
